Orange County Fair Assured; State Allocates $60,000

START WORK ON PLANT BY END OF WEEK

Tract of 180 Acres to Be Acquired Near Hansen; Plan Race Track

EXPECTED start of construction upon an Orange county fair plant was believed to be just around the corner today, as the state assembly approved the $2,815,000 appropriation for construction of state and county fair buildings and improvements, which included a $60,000 allocation to the Orange County Agricultural Fair district.

Chairman John Mitchell, of the county supervisors, said that signing of the bill by Governor Merriam probably would mean that actual construction would be under way by the end of this week.

The project, however, would be directed by the Orange County Fair Association, Mitchell said. H. A. Lake, of Garden Grove, is president of that association.

Negotiations are under way, it is said, for acquisition of a tract of 180 acres at Hansen, belonging to the Hansen estate, for use as a fair grounds.

Chairman Mitchell said that the state allocation would be restricted entirely to buildings and improvements, and would not provide for purchase of the site, which the fair association is arranging.

Plans also are understood to be under consideration for operation of a race track in connection with the fair grounds.

Construction of an Orange county fair establishment would mean that this county would thereafter obtain for itself the $10,000 annually appropriated to each fair district for premium expense.

Since the Orange county fair was discontinued several years ago both Orange and Riverside counties have been turning their premium-funds over to the Los Angeles county fair.

Other allocations made in the bill just passed by the assembly are: Alameda, $75,000; San Francisco, $75,000; San Mateo, $60,000; San Jose, $50,000; Sonoma and Marin, $50,000; Santa Clara, $65,000; Los Angeles, $60,000; Monterey, $25,000; Humboldt, $24,000; Siskiyou, $14,000; Lake and Mendocino, $17,000; Sutter and Yuba, $16,000; Kern, $40,000; San Luis Obispo, $17,000; Placer, $14,000; Fresno and Madera, $75,000; San Diego, $75,000; Contra Costa, $35,000; Tulare and Kings, $50,000; Napa, $13,000; Shasta, $10,000; San Bernardino, $65,000; Tehama, $10,000; Ventura, $20,000; Merced and Mariposa, $23,000; Santa Barbara, $35,000; Stanislaus, $30,000; Del Norte, $6,000; Glenn, $8,000; Lassen, $8,000; Imperial, $40,000; Riverside, $40,000; California State fair, Sacramento, $600,000.

SEA DRILLING BANNED BY H. B. CITY COUNCIL

JAPANESE WAR SHIPS ANCHOR OFF TIENTSIN

Two Thousand Troops Are Expected Tomorrow as New Crisis Nears

TIENTSIN, June 11.—(UP)—Signs of a new Japanese-Chinese crisis were apparent today as two Japanese destroyers were moored along the city waterfront and Maj. Gen. Kenji Doihara, mystery man of the Japanese army, arrived to confer with the Japanese high command.

Two thousand Japanese soldiers are believed due tomorrow. Three factors indicated strongly that fresh trouble was near.

1.—Chinese hints that though every verbal concession will be made to Japan, the demands will not be carried out.

2.—Japanese complaints that the Chinese agreement to comply with the demands is already being sabotaged.

3.—The fact that the extent of Japan's intentions is not known but that there is every sign of broadened demands for Chinese "cooperation" with Japan throughout Northern China.

Doihara, as he boarded his plane at Mukden, Manchukuo, for the flight to Tientsin, said that Gen. Ho's acceptance of demands would not settle the controversy—which arose over Japanese complaints of official anti-Japanese activities in Northern China—unless the provisions were carried out faithfully.

The destroyers which arrived today are the Fujii and Tsuta. They moored off the former Russian water front.

Ordinance Passed At Meet Today

Drilling Off Shore Within 3 Miles of Hightide Land Prohibited

THE CITY council of Huntington Beach in a special meeting this afternoon passed an emergency ordinance prohibiting the erection, establishment or maintenance of any oil well or derrick upon tide or submerged lands within the city limits, in an attempt to save the city's beach from the possible effects of the tidelands oil bill introduced to the state assembly today.

Under terms of the ordinance, drilling of wells will not be permitted within three miles off shore of the high tide land or on "islands" within the city limits. The assemblyman John G. Clark, of Long Beach, would authorize the state director of finance to acquire littoral or upland property near the state of pools, and would allow ocean drilling.

The local board today received word from the state relief commission, following the meeting of that body in San Diego, calling attention of the counties to the possibility that the new relief burden to be placed upon them may exceed the five-cent tax increase limitation, and giving assurance that the state board of equalization has promised "sympathetic consideration" of applications from the county to exceed the five-cent limitation if necessary for relief purposes.

Whether the county's relief burden will be doubled, or to what extent it may be increased, according to Supervisor Jerome, depends upon what policy the state adopts with respect to its relief funds; whether such funds shall be cast in with federal money in the employment program, or shall be used to assist the counties in their care of unemployables.

The county relief budget for the current fiscal year, ending next July 1, amounted to approximately $300,000, added to which was the $300,000 borrowed by the county from the state relief bond issue.

Delegates from 10 midwestern states listened impatiently while Edward A. Hayes, chairman of the resolutions committee, read the statement of principles on which the party hopes to build its 1936 platform. When it was finished and presented to them they gave it unanimous approval.

In addition Hayes presented a separate resolution in which the young Republicans organization demanded "recognition as a junior Republican national committee," and it too was adopted unanimously.

The convention then adjourned at 1:05 p. m. CST.

The "constructive policies for ending the depression" were submitted to the farm belt delegates after more than the two hours delay while the committeemen struggled a document which would apportion agriculture and labor without frightening the Republican party in the east.

"We recognize and approve the principle of collective bargaining, the representatives of labor to be of labor's own choice," the creed asserted, using language similar to the guarantee expressed in the

Mrs. Waley later confessed that her husband was implicated in the kidnaping and he was arrested in the Utah capital.

The new federal program, which has been announced as being limited to unemployment relief only, with all unemployables thrown back upon the county for care, also appears to have upset the planned medical and dental program for relief cases, which was to have been operated through SERA, according to County Supervisor W. C. Jerome of Santa Ana, who is a member of the relief committee of the state supervisors association.

MONEY FOUND BURIED IN CANYON NEAR SALT LAKE WRAPPED IN OIL CLOTH

Couple Held In Utah Capital Confess That Ransom Was Split With Man Being Sought In Montana

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, June 11.—(UP)—Confessions by Harmon M. Waley, 24, and his wife, Margaret, 19, today led to the recovery of $90,700 of Weyerhaeuser ransom money, Federal authorities disclosed. The money was found buried in Immigration canyon, at the edge of Salt Lake City, after Waley and his wife, held in the Federal building here on charges of having kidnaped 9-year-old George Weyerhaeuser, disclosed its hiding place.

It was buried about two feet in the ground, wrapped in black oil cloth and covered with a gunny sack. The cache was about two blocks from a highway.

Harmon M. Waley, who was arrested with his wife, Margaret, on charges of participating in the kidnaping of George Weyerhaeuser at Tacoma, Wash., confessed that the $200,000 ransom was split between himself and William Mahan, who still is being sought. Hoover said.

"Waley said he was short-changed about $5,000, that he burned $4,000 because it was too hot for him to keep, spent $300 and buried $99,700," the director continued.

He said that young George Weyerhaeuser had gone from Tacoma to Spokane and had identified positively a house there, where he was held captive by the kidnapers.

Two Men Job Federal officials said they believe now that the kidnaping was a two-man job, engineered by Mahan and Waley, perhaps with the help of the latter's wife. They said they believed Mahan had either buried the rest of the ransom money or perhaps still had it with him.

Nearly $16,000 was found in his automobile over the week-end when he escaped from police at Butte, Mont.

The officials revealed also that the kidnapers had not violated the Lindbergh kidnap laws because it had been established definitely that the boy had not been taken out of the state of Washington. The district attorney there filed complaints charging the Waleys and Mahan with extortion, which carries a penalty of around 25 years in prison.

The government, however, is expected to turn the capitals over to Washington state officials, who can charge them with kidnaping and subject them to a maximum penalty of death.

Hoover indicated that a final decision on this point would be made in a conference between

"COLLECTIVE BARGAINING" IS ENDORSED

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 11.—(UP)—Delegates to a Republican "grass roots" conference unanimously adopted today a set of resolutions endorsing "collective bargaining" for labor and "stabilization of the farm market" for agriculture.

Delegates from 10 midwestern states listened impatiently while Edward A. Hayes, chairman of the resolutions committee, read the statement of principles on which the party hopes to build its 1936 platform. When it was finished and presented to them they gave it unanimous approval.

In addition Hayes presented a separate resolution in which the young Republicans organization demanded "recognition as a junior Republican national committee," and it too was adopted unanimously.

BIRTH CONTROL AGREEMENT ON IS FAVORED AT INCOME TAX IS WOMEN'S MEET REPORTED NEAR

DETROIT, June 11.—(UP)—Delegates to the general Federation of Women's Clubs convention today approved a resolution placing the federation on record as favoring dissemination of scientific birth control information.

Brief debate preceded the crisis of "question" that brought the resolution to a vote of 493 to 17. The controversy centered particularly on dissemination of birth control information to persons on relief.

"This resolution is neither political nor religious, nor does it place any responsibility on any individual," argued Mrs. S. Blair Luckie of Chester, Pa., its sponsor.

It is granted that contraceptive information is taught medical students, it is given in maternal centers, this information is in violation of the penal code when carried by public carriers. All we are asking is really an amendment to the penal code to make it legal for doctors to secure this information and extend it without violation of the penal code."

Mrs. Luckie said that 14 of the state federations and 148 individual clubs had endorsed the measure.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 11.—(UP)—California couples must continue waiting three days after filing declaration of their intention to wed, or go into adjoining states for hasty marriages unless the state senate reverses its action on a bill to repeal the "gin marriage" law.

The upper house, by a vote of 20 yeas to 15 nays, defeated the gin marriage repeal bill last night. Senator Ed Fletcher, San Diego, gave notice that he would ask reconsideration of the vote. Previously, the measure had passed the assembly, recognized generally as being more liberal minded than the senate.

Defeat of the gin marriage repeal bill was not unexpected, in view of the senate's action some time ago in killing an assembly bill designed to outlaw alienation of affection and breach of promise suits.

WIDOWS OF SEAMEN SUE FOR $120,000

LOS ANGELES, June 11.—(UP)—Six widows of seamen who lost their lives when the fishing boat "Belle Isle" sank off the Southern California coast a year ago, today filed damage suits totaling $120,000 against the French Sardine company, owner of the boat, and the estate of John Gabelich, captain, who went down with the ship.

They asserted the "Belle Isle" was not seaworthy when it put out from San Diego, June 11, 1934, and that the captain and owners knew of the ship's condition. The seamen were afraid to object for fear of losing their jobs, it was claimed.

The widows, each of whom asks $20,000, are Mrs. Frank Dragovich, Mrs. Luther C. Ware, Mrs. Nick Lozica, Mrs. Roko Kovacevich, Mrs. Luke Lucich, and Mrs. Joe Paulic.

himself and the federal district attorney at Tacoma. Federal agents worked alone on the case. Chief of Police W. L. Payne did not know the money had been found until informed by the United Press that J. Edgar Hoover of the Department of Justice in Washington had announced it. E. J. Connelley, in charge of Federal agents here, confirmed the report but refused to disclose details concerning it. He confined his remarks to confirmation of the finding of the money and refused to admit or deny a report that William Mahan, 35, ex-convict sought in Montana, had been arrested.

Chief Payne was bitter upon learning that government men were working independent of his police force. "We've cooperated in every way and have a right to expect better treatment," Payne said. He said, however, that he would continue to cooperate with the Federal agents, "despite their attitude."

Adding weight to the persistent report that Mahan was already in custody was knowledge of the practice of Federal agents in delaying announcement of arrests. It was recalled that Mrs. Wiley was arrested at 11 a. m. Saturday and her husband at midnight. Announcement of the arrests was not made until Sunday night.

STATE WATER PLANS ARE GIVEN SETBACK

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 11.—(UP)—Allocation of federal funds to start construction of the proposed Central Valley water project has been postponed "probably until next year," according to State Engineer Edward Hyatt, who just returned from Washington.

"The federal allocation has only been delayed," Hyatt said. "We are still due to get the money, but apparently not at once and may not soon enough to put men to work this year."

Hyatt said the project was regarded with "high favor" by federal officials, but that the federal reclamation bureau had not yet received its allocation of the $4,800,000 work relief funds and until it did, California "could expect nothing."

California officials had hoped that at least $25,000,000 would be available for the project by not later than July 1 of this year.

HOUSE COMMITTEE TAKES RAP AT NRA

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(UP)—The House labor committee in a report today urging enactment of the Wagner-Connelly labor disputes bill, sharply criticized the NRA for "non-enforcement" of collective bargaining provision of the recovery act.

The report bristled with denunciation of various industrialists for allegedly trying to circumvent "7 A." and charged that certain industrial groups had exaggerated and "misrepresented" purposes of the labor disputes measure.

The bill, said the report, "provides adequate machinery for 7 A enforcement" and is essential because of a "widespread and growing bitterness on the part of workers, who feel, with much justification, that they have been given fair words, but betrayed by the government in the execution of its promises."

Originally, the assembly approved a bill calling for a rate one-third the federal levy. The senate amended this to make it a one-fourth rate, to be collected by the franchise tax commissioner. Neither house would recede from its original stand, and the problem was turned over to a conference committee of three senators and three assemblymen.

The committee completed a program last night which would have proposed a one-fourth rate for two years, dropping to one-fifth in 1937, and including dividends as well as earned income. This was to be changed, according to reports, because assembly leaders said it would be impossible to win support of that kind of a compromise in the lower house, primarily because of the provision to drop the rate in 1937.

As a result, the reduction item was to be eliminated, and dividends were to be exempted. These changes, leaders hoped, would influence a majority of members in both houses to accept the compromise.

BIRTH CONTROL IS FAVORED AT WOMEN'S MEET

the convention—that empowering a study of the proposed constitutional amendment granting District of Columbia residents the vote, and the measure advocating nation-wide fingerprinting for the protection "of every citizen"—were passed unanimously.

The birth control resolution, affirming the federation's belief that the mental and physical health and vigor of the country demands that legislation "for the dissemination of scientifically regulated birth control information" be enacted, was re-read to the delegates at Masonic temple when debate appeared to be getting out of hand.

Dr. Josephine L. Peirce, of Lima, O., defeated candidate for the presidency of the federation, was one of the strong supporters of the measure.

"If the government intends to control those families which are on relief, why can't they permit us to say something about the size of those families?" she asked.

Proposes Amendment
A New York college student, Frances Dodge, proposed an amendment which would restrict the dissemination of birth control information to married couples.

"We in college know that this information can be gotten by the unmarried and by those having no intention of marriage, so we suggest an amendment to this resolution asking that it be restricted either to married people or those who intend to marry," she urged.

A Florida delegate who explained that "we feel that this information should be allowed to come by mail, freight or express," was applauded.

Other speakers condemned the penal code in its application to birth control as "class legislation," and one pledged "to 'legalize' of such dissemination 'will tend to increase the morality of the nation.'"

Opponents of the measure expressed doubts that contraceptive information, even if made legally available, would gain widespread use among persons on relief.

CHILDREN AID IN CELEBRATION

could participate in the revenue was to seek state legislative action putting the state royalty of 16 and two-thirds per cent on the same basis as the gasoline tax. In that manner, he said, it may be possible for the county to get a share.

Mayor Talbot of Huntington Beach urged the chamber not to block the program, which he said would settle a bitter dispute of long standing between interested parties. He said that it is the desire of Huntington Beach that the friendly relations between the beach city and Santa Ana be continued. He told The Register after the meeting that there had been threats of boycotting Santa Ana merchants after the action taken seeking a veto of the measure was learned of.

M. B. Wellington, attorney who said he has been representing one of the interested parties, told the directors that the county of Orange has no legal right to share in the royalties, declaring that the county has no jurisdiction or duty toward an incorporated city such as Huntington Beach.

The brief letter sent to the governor by the local chamber is as follows:

"Referring to our letter of June 7, 1935, our investigation now discloses a veto of bill No. 1684 would jeopardize the rights of others which was not our intention. We withdraw our request for such action on your part."

The bill, which is on the governor's desk for signature, would permit drilling of wells into the rich ocean pools at any point, and set a minimum royalty to the state of 16 and two-thirds per cent. The city of Huntington Beach is to receive payments amounting to three per cent, which it is believed will make the county a tax-free community, according to Mayor Tom Talbot's statement to the group this morning.

district from exercising the right of eminent domain in the Mojave watershed area, inasmuch as the district has been making tentative plans to bring surplus Mojave river water into this county. The district has never intended to bring water from Mojave areas where the water is being put to beneficial use, directors have pointed out, but plan only some day to bring the waters from the Mojave which are not being put to beneficial use and which are being wasted at the present time, to this section.

The move adding the restriction on the amendment was interpreted here as an action to block Orange county's program. C. Roy Brown, director of the Orange County Water District, who is in Sacramento furthering the interests of the local measure, sent a telegram to A. W. Rutan, consulting attorney for the district, this morning informing him of the action taken in the state legislature.

Secretary C. A. Palmer of the district is keeping in close touch with the situation in Sacramento.

Shaw In Favor Of Marriage Between Whites and Blacks

LONDON, June 11.—(UP)—Marriages of whites and negroes was advocated today by George Bernard Shaw, after a tour of South Africa, as the solution of the Dominion's need for increased population.

In an interview with the London Daily Telegraph Shaw said a mixture of the races is the only way South Africa's most pressing problem can be solved.

"The white population of Africa is normally fertile and it might be thought there would be no difficulty in filling up South Africa," he said, "but South Africa does not fill up."

He said the probable explanation is that "there is too much sunshine for people with light skins."

"The remedy is for them to darken their skins," he added, "and in South Africa this means by marrying Bantus."

PROPRATE FIGHT TO GO TO HIGH COURT

LOS ANGELES, June 11.—(UP)—Appeal of lemon growers and milk producers from a superior court ruling holding the state agricultural pro-rate act unconstitutional will be taken to the supreme court, Deputy Attorney General Walter Bowers announced today.

Bowers, acting for the pro-rate commission, asserted that chaotic conditions would result in the California Lemon industry unless the lower court was prevented from interfering with administration of the act.

WHEELER-RAYBURN MEASURE IS PASSED

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(UP)—The senate today passed the Wheeler-Rayburn bill to abolish holding company systems which President Roosevelt declared gave a few individuals "tyrannical power" over many of the nation's public utilities.

The bill still must be acted on by the house, where it has been tied up for weeks in committee.

Senate passage came after a roll call on which a single vote defeated an amendment of Sen. William H. Dieterich, D., Ill., which would have softened the measure. The amendment was defeated 44 to 46.

As adopted by the senate, the bill would force dissolution in five years of many of the great power and gas systems which dominate operating companies throughout the country.

S. A. Workers Club To Meet Tonight

The Santa Ana Workers club will meet tonight at the Gonzales hall, Fourth street near Spurgeon street, at 7:30 o'clock. It was announced today. Plans for a mass meeting of Orange County Workers' clubs to be held Thursday evening in the Willard auditorium will be discussed.

Other matters scheduled include a discussion of agricultural workers wages, the relationship of SARA workers to agricultural workers, and a discussion of SARA budget increases, and the role of Mexican workers on SARA rolls.

Their arrival, the expected arrival of Japanese reinforcements, the official Japanese complaint that conditions were not being fulfilled and the arrival of Japanese troops were accompanied by other reports.

Japanese sources reported that the Japanese army had established an airbase at Kalgan, northwest of Peiping, ready to send planes to the Tientsin-Peiping line. The same sources reported massing of Japanese troops at Shanhaikwan, at the junction of the great wall and the sea, and at Kupeikow, strategically important pass north of Peiping.

JAPS AND RUSSIANS ENGAGE IN BATTLE

TOKYO, June 11.—(UP)—A clash between Japanese-Manchukuo and Russian soldiers in which a Russian was killed was revealed today while Japanese forces were consolidating their position in China.

Japanese and Russian versions contradicted each other directly. Each nation blamed the other, and each has filed a protest.

All that was certain was that a patrol of Japanese and Manchukuo soldiers met a patrol of Russians on the eastern frontier of Manchukuo and that a Russian was killed.

The fight occurred June 3. It was not made public until Russia announced its protest.

Japan's version is that the patrols met on a Manchukuo soil near Lake Hanka. Lake Hanka lies mostly in Siberia but juts out into Manchukuo territory.

The Russians, the foreign office said, fired on the Japanese. The Japanese, a spokesman said, requested that the Russians cease firing. The firing continued, it was asserted, and the Japanese replied, killing one Russian soldier who was buried respectfully. The burial feature, it was noted, would tend to confirm the story that the clash occurred on Japanese soil.

Gen. Jiro Minami, ambassador to Manchukuo and commander of the Japanese army in Manchukuo, protested June 5 to the Russian consul at Harbin, the foreign office said, complaining both that Manchukuo soil was invaded and that the Russians fired first.

The Russian counter-protest, it was added, was received yesterday.

COMMUNISM DRIVE IS STATE WANES

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 11.—(UP)—An early legislative drive against communism, subversive influences and groups which advocate the overthrow of government by force had simmered down today to a bill prohibiting such organizations from using public school buildings and other civic gathering places.

The "No Reds in the School House" measure was on its way to the governor after passage by the senate.

It declares all public school buildings to be "civic centers" and prohibits civic centers from being used by organizations advocating or teaching the overthrow of government by force.

National Industrial Recovery Act which, on other grounds, was held unconstitutional by the supreme court.

The labor section said the grass roots were "opposed to employment of children in industry." They favored regulation of the employment of women.

Most difficult to draft was the agricultural plant which finally emerged as a demand that the farmer enjoy his "fair and proportionate part of the national income."

"We endorse," the farm paragraph continued, "the enactment of such legislation, approved by the farmers themselves as will accomplish such purposes."

Proposed Policies

The "governmental policies" proposed were, in brief:

1—Immediate adoption of a policy of economy with allowance for essential relief expenditures.

2—Prompt attainment of a balanced budget.

3—Establishment of a sound currency based on gold.

4—Immediate withdrawal of government from competition with private business.

5—Vigorous enforcement of anti-trust laws to maintain free growth of industry.

6—Rigid enforcement of civil and criminal laws to prevent dishonest business, industrial and financial practices.

7—Enactment of legislation to give the farmer a fair share in the national income, to stabilize the farm market and to give the farmer a parity price for the products of his farm in domestic markets.

8—Full dinner pail for the working man and encouragement of an economic fraternalism between the trinity of farm, workers and industry.

9—Breaking down of quotas and exchange restrictions that throttle world commerce.

10—Continued protection to farm and home ownership.

COLLINS ATTENDS BANKERS' MEETING

GARDEN GROVE, June 11.—Rodney Collins, cashier of the First National Bank of Garden Grove and newly elected president of the American Institute of Banking, Orange county chapter, is attending the national convention of the American Institute of banking being held this week at Omaha. Collins expects to be gone two weeks and will visit relatives in Minnesota and North Dakota before returning home. Last year he was first vice-president of the Lions club and was recently installed secretary-treasurer of the local den.

COUNTY RELIEF BURDEN MAY BE DOUBLED, SAID

making a total relief budget of $686,000.

Actual expenditures for the year, however, are expected to be about $200,000 below that figure, Jerome pointed out, as it is expected there will be a balance of about $125,000 carried over in the relief budget, while about $75,000 of the $200,000 loan will remain allocated to relief projects, but unexpended.

Jerome's statement indicated that, if state relief funds are used to aid the federal program, rather than the county program, Orange county may be required to anticipate a relief budget of more than $900,000 for the coming fiscal year.

Word from the state relief commission included the information that the county must bear the expense of medical and dental care of unemployed under the new program. Such unemployed who may be rehabilitated physically by treatment, then would be returned to the federal rolls, it is understood.

Jerome said he anticipated that a meeting of the state supervisors relief committee might be called soon by Chairman Thomas E. Caldecott, of Alameda county, to consider the counties' situation.

SEA DRILLING IS BANNED BY BEACH COUNCIL

The bill recently passed by the state senate and assembly which is now awaiting Governor Merriam's signature, would permit whiststock or "slant" drilling into the ocean pools, to which Huntington Beach civic authorities are not opposed.

Clark is reported to be using the approach of the new tidelands drilling measure as a means of avoiding competition to the Standard Oil company, owner of a long strip of littoral land at Huntington Beach. Assemblyman Charles G. Lyon, of Los Angeles, author of an amendment written into Swing's Senate bill 959 to authorize the director of finance to lease to the Gilmore Exploration company tideland areas to within 500 feet of ordinary high tide lines, issued a statement today in favor of "island drilling" of the Huntington Beach pool.

Lyon called attention to the lease proposed by the Gilmore Exploration company on the basis of royalties ranging from 20 to 30 per cent. The bill recently passed would permit littoral owners to tap the state pool with slant lines by paying 16 3-3 per cent royalties.

The City of Huntington Beach also is desirous of protecting its rights in a deal made with Standard Oil, Hancock Oil and Signal Oil, by which the city will be paid 3 per cent royalty on 52 wells to be slanted into the ocean pool by a corporation formed from the three companies, in the event Governor Merriam signs the bill before him.

It also is felt by civic authorities that any bill permitting ocean drilling from derricks erected in the water, or from "islands," would literally predicate a wholesale pollution of the city's beaches, and ruin its recreational advantages.

PALMER TOLD OF CHANGES IN LOAN POLICIES

Major changes in the lending powers of the National Farm Credit association brought about through the recent Farm Credit Act of 1935, which was signed this month by President Roosevelt, were explained today in a communication received from Governor W. I. Myers of the Farm Credit Administration in Washington by C. A. Palmer, secretary of the Orange County Farm Credit association.

In the farm mortgage field the act provides that interest on all Federal Land Bank loans made through Farm Loan association be reduced as of July 1, from 4 1/4 to 3 1/2 per cent, with interest to be figured at 4 per cent for two years, beginning July 1, 1935. Interest rates on bank loans made directly through the banks themselves will be reduced proportionately.

This in effect, Palmer explained, means a temporary reduction of interest on all Federal Land Bank loans having installments due before July 1, 1935. Interest due before July 1, 1935, will be computed at the original contract rate of 4 1/4 per cent on loans made through Farm Loan associations, and from 5 to 6 per cent on loans made prior to April, 1935. The reduction affects only Federal Land Bank loans; the rate on land bank commissioner loans remains at 5 per cent, these being made either on first or second mortgages.

"The act, however," Governor Myers' statement said, "extends the time in which commission loans may be made direct to farmers from February, 1935, as set by the Emergency Farm Mortgage Act of 1933, to January 1, 1940. It also permits the commission to make loans for the purpose of purchasing farms where under the former law the use of such loans was restricted to refinancing debts and repurchasing farms lost through foreclosure, and for working capital.

Under the new act, it was explained, banks may cooperate to make loans to cooperative farmer bodies, and "physical facility" loans may be made for purposes of cooperatively purchasing and furnishing farm supplies.

CANDIDATES FOR CITIZENSHIP GUESTS AT ANNUAL MEET OF NATIVE SONS AND DAUGHTERS

Thirty-five candidates for naturalization, representing 14 nations, who will come before the court tomorrow for examinations were guests of honor at an annual program which Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West held last night in Knights of Columbus hall, with Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools as speaker.

Adkinson spoke on "Citizenship and the Constitution," stating, "Our government is the living history of the people who cast off old ties, seeking a new life and new achievements. The constitution of our state begins with the spirit of the pioneer." He spoke of the courage shown by the citizenship applicants in casting off family ties and country, as a "re-creation of the spirit of the pioneer."

The program followed individual meetings of the Sons and Daughters, with Daughters electing the following officers: Muriel Bray, president; Marguerite Mize, Mattie Edwards and Ina Cope, first, second and third vice presidents; Matilda Lemon, recording secretary; Stella Gates, assistant secretary; Florence Watson, treasurer; Gladys Edwards, marshal; Genevieve Hickey, Martha Devinney, Myrtle Ellis, trustees; Alice Rogers, organist; Olive Witt and Gertrude Etzold, inside and outside sentinels. Installation was tentatively set for July.

Mrs. Herbert Bray and Mrs. Martha Devinney will leave June 15 for Sacramento to represent the local parlor at a grand parlor convention June 17-22, it was announced.

In the absence of Ruth Kotlar and Walter Giesler, presidents of Native Daughters and Native Sons, Mrs. Herbert Bray and Ray Adkinson welcomed the naturalization class and its instructor, Miss Nell Hunt. Miss Hunt, Mrs. Golden Weston, director of adult education and W. W. Wieman, principal of Lathrop Evening high school, gave short talks. The S.E.R.A. band gave selections; Mrs. Vernon Clayton sang solos, accompanied by Mrs. Vincent Humiston.

Mrs. Matilda Lemon, chairman of the evening's entertainment, was assisted in serving refreshments by Mesdames W. A. West and Herbert Bray.

Purse Stolen At S. A. Jewelry Store

Theft of a purse containing three $1 bills, some small change and a ruby ring set in white gold was reported to police yesterday by W. M. Morrill, jeweler, of 116 West Third street.

The purse was taken, Morrill reported by two well dressed dark complexioned men who might be Syrians, who had entered the store to look at rings but departed on a pretext and never came back.

DELEGATES NAMED BY TOWNSEND GROUP

Seven delegates were elected at the Riverside Townsend club convention yesterday who will represent the Nineteenth congressional district, including Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties, at the forthcoming Southern California convention to be held in Los Angeles, according to reports brought back by 75 Orange county persons who attended the Riverside gathering.

Fred Vollmer of Santa Ana and A. W. Franzen of Anaheim were the delegates elected from Orange county, according to E. A. Cox, manager of the local Townsend headquarters who was present, while other delegates chosen included C. S. Harper, Rialto, Judge Guy S. Garner, Highgrove, Judge George Sarkness, Hemet, George H. Wilcox, San Bernardino, and E. C. Bishop, Ontario.

Senator Arbuckle of Los Angeles was chairman of the Riverside meeting.

ASKS POLICE AID IN PANTS TANGLE

"I want my pants," said a customer entering the store of Harry Cohen, 404 East Fourth street, Saturday night.

He had forgotten his claim check, but the trousers were wrapped up and he departed.

"I want my pants," said another customer a short time later, but they were not to be found.

The second customer's pants had inadvertently been delivered to Customer No. 1, whose own pants still remained in the store.

Cohen appealed to police yesterday to help him find the lost pants and Customer No. 1 so the two pairs of trousers could be restored to the nether extremities of their rightful owners.

Cohen described the man as 20 years old, 5 feet 2 inches tall, and with black hair.

SOUTHERN COUNTIES GAS COMPANY

THE GAS TO COOK YOUR FAMILY DINNER COSTS LESS THAN THE APPLE IN HIS LUNCH

An apple a day for a growing boy wouldn't even be figured as an expense in your household budget—the amount would be but little over a penny. And yet, even this slight cost is greater than that of natural gas to cook the average family's dinner. The next most practical fuel costs over twice as much!

Where natural gas cost is so low, is it any wonder that thousands of housewives are installing new automatic gas ranges, which use this economical fuel to best advantage? Besides offering modern conveniences, their effective insulation and efficient burners can make low fuel costs still lower!

See the many new models at your dealer's. Through arrangements with your gas company, he now offers you modern gas ranges on the lowest terms ever available in this territory.

SENIOR PLAY AND BREAKFAST SET WEDNESDAY

With the presentation of the Santa Ana High school senior play, "Big Hearted Herbert" tomorrow, the final week of senior activities will be ushered in. The play will be presented tomorrow afternoon and evening at the Willard Junior High school auditorium.

The senior breakfast will be held at the Elbell club Wednesday morning, with "Big Hearted Herbert" being produced in the afternoon.

Victor Rowland will preside at the breakfast, with Miss Jean Rueter reading the class prophesy. The high school orchestra will entertain with several numbers. General decoration colors will be carried out in red and white.

Friday, at 4 p. m. commencement exercises will be conducted on the athletic field, when 352 students will receive their diplomas. According to all indications, this year's exercises will be one of the most impressive in many years. Besides the 352 seniors, who will wear caps and gowns, there will be nine night school graduates. Members of the high school faculty are also scheduled to participate.

Dr. Frederick Lindsey, professor of speech at Occidental college, will deliver the main address, "A Concept of Progress." Presentation of diplomas will be made by George Wells, president of the board of education, Robert Bradley, class president, will deliver the acceptance speech, while Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson will preside.

The high school band under Leonard Auer's direction will play the processional marches. Miss Margaret Brugger is valedictorian for the class. Ralph Fuller and Robert White, juniors, are to be marshals for the afternoon.

The cast for the class play which is directed by Ernest Crozier Phillips, is as follows: Herbert Kainess, Robert Bradley; Robert Kainess, Franklin Guthrie; Elizabeth Kainess, Betty Jane Moore; Martha, Louise Ryel; Herbert Kainess Jr., Muriel Hallman; Alice Kainess, Margaret Munro; Andrew Goodrich, Bill Hawkins; Amy Lawrence, Florence Liggett; Jim Lawrence, Delbert Tucker; Mr. Goodrich, Robert Browning; Mrs. Goodrich, Erlene Farmer; Mr. Havens, Clinton Campbell; Mrs. Havens, Helen Markel.

The stage crew is composed of James Cook, George Bruce, Roland Noche, Clyde Patmor, Tom Bradley, Ena Smith and Janet Hollingsworth.

GROWERS OF SWEET POTATOES TO MEET

Two meetings on the sweet potato prorate will be held in Orange county tomorrow in connection with a schedule of meetings on the prorate arranged for the Southern California producing area. It was announced today by Eric E. Eastman, assistant farm advisor.

The Orange county meetings will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow at the James Bacon ranch, one and a half miles south of Buena Park on Grand avenue and at 7:30 p. m. in the Mutual Orange Distributors packing plant in Garden Grove near the P. E. depot.

There has been so many misunderstandings and conflicting reports of the operation of the 1934 sweet potato prorate in Southern California that it seems advisable to give an authentic report of what occurred at public gatherings of growers, where everyone is free to come and discuss the 1934 program, Eastman said.

Since the prorate is still in effect, plans relative to the 1935 prorate should be formulated and discussed freely, he added.

Eastman urged all sweet potato growers to attend at least one of the two meetings, whether they are favorable or opposed to the prorate, since Orange county is still in neutral territory in the sweet potato prorate set-up.

HOLLYWOOD HAPPENINGS

By DAN THOMAS, Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 11.—For his role in "Mutiny on the Bounty," Charles Laughton wanted a make-up that would transform him into a very sinister looking character. The expert making him up had trouble pleasing him, particularly when it came to shaping his eyebrows. Laughton looked around the set "There," he exclaimed, "that's the kind of eyebrows I want." And he pointed right at Director Frank Lloyd.

300 AT MEET OF BEGONIA SOCIETY

Nearly 300 were present when the American Begonia society held its monthly meeting at the Miller Begonia gardens, West Seventeenth street, near Garden Grove, Sunday. The meeting was presided over by G. Walker, of Long Beach, assisted by Mrs. Palatine and Mrs. J. S. Williams, both of Long Beach.

Talks were given by Mrs. Jean Miller on the care of rare plants, and by E. H. Miller on "Correct Watering and Pest Control." Owners of some of the largest rare plant gardens in Southern California were present at the meeting.

COUNTY CHORISTERS TO GIVE ORATORIO

The Orange County chorus will present the oratorio "Elijah" next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at Fullerton, the Fullerton Junior college auditorium. It was announced today.

The concert will be under the direction of Benjamin Edwards, and solo parts will be taken by guest artists, with the exception of the role of Elijah, which will be sung by Stanley Kurtz, of El-Modena.

No admission will be charged for the affair, but a silver offering will be taken to defray expenses. It was announced. The public is invited.

Card Party Held At Silver Acres

SILVER ACRES, June 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patterson entertained with a card party recently at their home on First street. "500" was played, after which refreshments were served. First prize for women was won by Mrs. Ben Drake, and second was awarded to Mrs. Delbert Melvin. Raymond Davis won first for men, with Lloyd Patterson winning second. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Drake, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl McCullough, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Melvin, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Davis and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Patterson.

SOCIETY TO MEET PLACENTIA, June 11.—Dorcas society of Placentia Calvary church will meet all day at the church Thursday for a potluck dinner. Mrs. W. Wallenous will lead the afternoon devotional and missionary meeting.

EXONERATE DRIVER IN FATAL CRASH

The death of Michael Krolk, 50, of Los Angeles was held to be accidental by a coroner's jury following inquest into the fatality conducted by Coroner Earl Abbey at the Winbinger mortuary yesterday afternoon.

Krolk was killed three miles below Irvine Sunday morning when the car in which he was a passenger struck a tree. Jack Sasgorsky, 35, of Los Angeles, driver of the car, was exonerated.

Testimony at the inquest showed that the front wheels of the car had suddenly locked, causing the tragedy. Lloyd Groover, California Highway patrolman, testified that following the crash he was unable to turn the front wheels of the wrecked car.

ANNUAL PUBLISHED PLACENTIA, June 11.—The second annual, a blue covered book of 72 pages, was off the press yesterday and is being sold to the students and others interested in the Valencia High school.

Miss Helene Kershner is sponsor. Frank Jones student editor and Norma Tuffe is assistant editor of the production.

SCHOOL HOME COURSE UNITS HAVE DISPLAY

The Home Economics departments of Santa Ana's two junior high schools, Lathrop and Willard, have exhibits of their work on display all this week in the SERA windows at Second and Broadway, as part of the series of school work exhibits sponsored by the City Teachers League.

This week's exhibits were arranged under the direction of Mrs. Ethel R. Sinke and Mrs. Lillian Fitz, instructors at Lathrop and Willard schools respectively.

In connection with the display, the teachers today issued a statement explaining the aims of home economics courses, and methods of instruction. The statement said:

"The aim is to teach the girls to do better the things they are doing now or will be doing in the future. Every girl will have some part in home making, whether it be the actual cooking of food and the making of clothing, or the selection of food and the buying of clothing, and the management of the home."

Study Course

"The courses include: 1—A comprehensive study of foods, emphasizing simple family meals, selection of foods in the market, proper food combinations, economy in selection and preparation of foods, food values, and health preparation and serving of food. 2—Table manners. 3—Food preservation, the canning of fruits and vegetables and the making of jams and jellies. 4—Use and care of the various utensils and equipment of the modern home.

"Projects are required on various subjects connected with food and home making, such as the foods and home customs of the various countries, development of the American home, first aid in the home, comparison of the home life of 1790 and today, manufacture or preparation for the market of various foods, tastes on foods, preservation and many others.

"The seventh grade students make their cooking uniforms, learning many of the fundamental problems in sewing, both hand and machine stitches.

Garments Made

"The eighth grade girls construct an undergarment as the minimum requirement. The new type of seams and methods of finishing. The ninth grade students construct two garments, pajamas and a simple dress. They select their own patterns and materials. In addition to sewing construction they study various units, as follows:

"Unit 1—Good grooming: (a) care of person; (b) suitable clothing; (c) care of clothing.

"Unit 2—Beauty of dress, through color and design. Color: (a) its use; (b) various color harmonies; (c) the effect of texture of fabrics on color; (d) becoming colors for different types; (e) relation of color to cost of wardrobe. Lines: beautiful dress has good lines; (a) lines in clothing construction; (b) decoration; (c) becoming lines for various types; (d) beauty through proportion; (e) beauty through rhythm. Appropriate clothing: (a) characteristics of appropriate clothing. Fashions.

"Unit 3—Choice of fabrics: (a) qualities of fabrics; (b) using fabrics; (c) quality of fabrics important in durability; (d) familiarity with fabrics through use.

"Unit 4—Care of clothing: (a) prevention of soil and wear; (b) renewal of garments.

"Unit 5—The girl's allowance."

VISIT IN BREA

BREA, June 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Don Churchill and little son are visiting in Brea with Mr. Churchill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Churchill, from their home in Hartford, Conn. Mrs. Churchill was formerly Miss Edith Spicer, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Spicer, the former for many years pastor of the Christian church.

Don Churchill spoke at the church Sunday evening, telling of his religious work in Hartford among the newsboys and boot-blacks and of the success which he has met in that work. A reception was given the visitors in the social hall of the church Monday night with practically every member of the church present.

VALENCIA HIGH P.-T. A. HOLDS INSTALLATION

PLACENTIA, June 11.—New officers were installed for the Valencia High school Parent-Teacher association Monday night at the final meeting of the year at Placentia Round Table clubhouse. Mrs. Louis Edmondson was installed and will serve her second year as president.

Fred Rupp was installed for Frank Hill as vice president. Mrs. Charles Harrover was installed as secretary. George Woolsey, treasurer; Herbert Hooper, parliamentarian; Mrs. E. W. Sharpe for Helene Kershner as historian, and Louis Edmondson for E. M. Everett as auditor.

Mrs. R. W. Marvin, Anaheim, junior past president of the Fourth District, installed the new officers, instructing them in their duties. Reports of all departments were heard before installation.

Fred Rupp played a trumpet solo, accompanied by Jean Charlton, and a quartet, composed of Ray Easton, Rupp, Leonard Hummel and E. M. Everett, sang. John Crossley, principal of the high school, expressed appreciation for the work of the organization, and C. R. Young responded.

Louis Jacobsen, a member, in an attempt to bring to the group a protest of the action of the school board in refusing to renew the contracts of two teachers of the district, brought some charges against "white suppers of the community," and was asked to discontinue by the president, who pointed out to him the rules of the P.-T. A. provided that no action or discussion be made in the group in politics or against the work of the board of education.

ruary 8, left an estate consisting of $1011 in government insurance. It was stated today in a superior court petition for letters of administration, filed by an uncle, Claude T. Davis, R. D. 4, of San Dimas. The only other legal heir, according to the petition, is the father of the deceased, "Frank J. Davis, 60, who has been missing for five years."

Late News From Fullerton And Vicinity

COLLEGE CLASS HEARS ADDRESS BY DR. HUNTER

FULLERTON, June 11.—Members of the graduating class of Fullerton District Junior college assembled at the Methodist church Sunday at 4 p. m. for baccalaureate services, where the Rev. Graham C. Hunter, pastor of the Presbyterian church, brought the address of the day. He talked on, "The Whispering Campaign Within You" and said in part:

"It should be remembered that even if there are not enough jobs to go around, yet immensely important jobs need to be done, even if they do not have an attractive label and a salary attached," he said. "Perhaps the most important of the many which we could think of is the task of bringing scientific discovery and invention under the control of social and spiritual forces. Unless chemical and physical inventions are paralleled by great spiritual developments they will undoubtedly lead to the destruction of the human race, for competing nationalism will never hesitate to use any means whatever to defeat one another. To throw your influence on that side and into the struggle will probably bring you no great popularity, but to do so will do something more important; it will enable the human race to survive."

Mrs. Harold Nielsen brought the organ music, playing "Song of Joy" by Frysinger; "Melody in A" by Daves, vice president of United States, and "Andante in G" by Batiste.

The Rev. L. I. Chamlee pronounced the invocation; the Rev. E. Dow Hoffman the benediction and the Rev. Francis E. Hawes read the scripture lesson. The college a capella choir sang "A Snow Mountain" by F. M. Christiansen, with Robert Doster taking the solo part, and "Beautiful Saviour," Benjamin Edwards directed.

The new members are Mrs. Genevieve Day, Mrs. Gladys Starbuck, Mrs. Gladys Foster, Mrs. Pearl Hastings, Mrs. Marie Waltz, Mrs. Elsie Fairbanks, Mrs. Evelyn Tilley, Mrs. Edna Pryor and Mrs. Stella Garretson.

Special guests were Mrs. Esther Marsh, Upland, state Americanism chairman; Mrs. Marjorie Peabody, La Habra, 21st district vice president; Mrs. Florence Smith, of Anaheim, state finance officer, and Mrs. Roselle Martinet, Anaheim, president of the union.

CHURCH BOARD ARRANGES FOR NEW PROGRAM

FULLERTON, June 11.—The Fullerton Methodist church official board made detailed plans for the unified program to open Sunday, June 16, at 9:25 a. m. with an organ prelude at a meeting Monday night.

According to plans thus far worked out all departments of the Sunday school along with the church congregation will assemble at that hour except the cradle roll and beginners' departments, and the junior department will remain in the main auditorium until after the children's sermon. Following that the balance of the audience will remain for church services until 10:40, when departments of the Sunday school will gather.

The Truth Seekers' class of the church will meet Thursday with Mrs. Jessie Henderson on East Orangehorpe, a meeting postponed from last week.

The General Aid society of the church will meet at 2 p. m. Thursday with Mrs. William H. Bates, of Yorba Linda, and following the reports of circles and election of officers, the Kingdom Builders circle will hold a silver tea at 3 p. m. All are invited.

Mrs. V. L. Chambers will be hostess to members of the "Sunshine circle" at her home at 624 North Golden avenue at 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

The 21st district meeting of the Legion and auxiliary was announced for July 21 at Huntington Beach, where officers will be nominated and elected.

Plan Piano Recital For This Evening

FULLERTON, June 11.—Margaret Grinde and Helen Whittaker, advanced piano pupils of Mrs. Y. W. Ramsey, last night gave a recital at the First Presbyterian church. Mrs. Ramsey will present other students in a recital at 8 o'clock tonight. Lucille Nieman, reader, and Wayne Carlson, violinist, assisted.

Margaret Grinde presented "The Two Larks," by Leschetizky; "Morning," by Grieg, "Butterfly," by Lavelle, "Sonata in E," by Grieg, "Fantasia Impromptu," and "Nocturne in G," by Chopin, "Concert Study," by Liszt, "Spinning Song," by Mendelssohn and Kammerl Ostrud," by Rubenstein.

Helen Whittaker presented "Witches Dance," by MacLurell, "The Swan," by Saint-Saens, "Juba Dance," by Dett, "Liebestraum," by Liszt, and "Sonata," by Beethoven.

Pastors Guests At Beach Party

FULLERTON, June 11.—The Rev. and Mrs. E. Dow Hoffman were hosts Monday night to the ministers and their families of Orange county Methodist churches at the regular monthly social meeting. They entertained at their beach home at 5476 East Ocean boulevard, Long Beach, with a dinner and a social time.

Present were Dr. James E. Dunning, district superintendent, Mrs. Dunning and Charles Dunning of Santa Ana; the Rev. and Mrs. W. I. Lowe and daughter, Ardeth, of Costa Mesa; the Rev. and Mrs. J. Hunter Smith, of Yorba Linda; the Rev. and Mrs. White, of Laguna Beach; the Rev. and Mrs. Joe Thompson and two children, of Wintersburg; the Rev. and Mrs. John Engle, of Huntington Beach; the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Coyne, of Seal Beach; the Rev. and Mrs. Goudowsky, of Anaheim, the hosts and their three children.

NEW OFFICER INSTALLED B. D. A. R. IN PARK

FULLERTON, June 11.—Miss Florence Durkee, of Anaheim, was installed as regent of Fullerton chapter of B. D. A. R. at the last meeting of the year held in Commonwealth park, Monday.

Mrs. R. R. Lightner, a past regent, administered the charge to the new officers. Mrs. C. A. Neighbors was installed as vice regent. Mrs. D. J. Lyman, secretary, and vice regent, Mrs. W. E. Gunn, chaplain, Mrs. J. Arthur Miller, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ely Biggs, recording secretary, Mrs. George Reed, treasurer, Mrs. Wilbur Maple, registrar, Mrs. C. B. Nonemaker, historian, and Mrs. V. G. Rich and Mrs. W. H. Bates, members of the board of directors. Mrs. Gunn is senior president of the Children of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Albert Walker of Yorba Linda, presided at the meeting in the absence of Mrs. O. M. Thompson, regent, who is in the east.

A report was made that the debt on constitution hall in Washington, D. C., has been raised.

The marking of the grave of Mrs. Rachel Acuff, a granddaughter of the American Revolution, was reported on by Mrs. H. H. Crooke.

Serious consideration was given to resuming luncheon meetings with the opening of the fall season in September. The meetings have been held in homes recently.

OPENINGS FOR 20 CRAFTSMEN AT CCC CAMPS

Openings for approximately 20 local men who have experience in various crafts for service in CCC camp work now are available, according to word received today by Director Terrence H. Halloran of the Orange county SERRA from H. R. McConnell, of the United States Soil Conservation Service.

Men who desire this work should apply at the local SERRA headquarters, Second and Broadway, at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. It was announced, when interviews will be given. Men are desired who have experience in various clerical and skilled trades. The pay is from $30 to $45 a month, including lodging, clothing, meals, etc.

The men accepted for the work will be located at Vista, near Oceanside. The only age restriction is that the men must be more than 18 years of age.

Halloran pointed out that the work is not to be confused with regular CCC enrollments. Applications for the next enrollment period in the CCC camps now are being taken at SERRA headquarters.

The new enrollment period for Orange county will be from June 15 to 30. The age limit for enrollment has been raised to from 18 to 25 years.

BAPTISTS LEAVE FOR CONVENTION

The Rev. Harry Evan Owings, pastor of the Santa Ana First Baptist church, and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Robinson, of Tustin, will represent the local church at the Northern Baptist convention to be held in Colorado Springs, Colo., June 20 to 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and their son, Billy, will drive through and will be met in Colorado by their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Robinson, who has been attending a Baptist missionary school in Chicago.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

-- News Behind the News --

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

GUNNIN.
WASHINGTON, June 11.—The war headlines is on again in the Mediterranean and the Far East. Big Gun Mussolini is firing blank cartridges at Britain. The Japanese are going him one better in Tokyo, leveling a diplomatic barrage over the heads of the entire world.

But, if you will notice, their troops are moving in a direction opposite to their words. Mussolini's are getting ready to grab the rest of Ethiopia; the Japanese are moving to demoralize a growing resistance to their domination in China.

The guiding spirits of American diplomacy are silent but unexcited. They have catalogued both steps definitely in their own minds as further "bulldozing diplomacy."

WHISTLES.
Herr Hitler is making similar bulldozing threats against Russia. His purpose is precisely the same as that of the Italians and Japanese. He wants to frighten the world into silence while he prepares the way for colonial expansion eastward. Although you hear little about it in this country now, you will later. The Reds have become so excited they can almost hear the Nazi legions goose-stepping eastward to the strains of the "horst wessel," which sounds as if it might be a horse whistle, but isn't.

DISGUISE.
Even diplomats have to smile when they think of the latest of Hitler's moves. He turned a honeymoon into a diplomatic threat. The honeymoon was not his, but that of his first lieutenant, General Goering.

The general was sent off to lead his bride in the same direction which may some day be taken by the great German air force which he built up. The honeymoon party included two secretaries of aviation, and confidential officials from several ministries, as well as Prince Philip of Hesse, a brother-in-law of the King of Bulgaria. Incidentally, the bride also went along. The honeymoon party visited all the countries which Germany is trying to win over.

It is not the first time that Mars has been disguised as cupid.

SIGNS.
No authority here doubts that all these steps are more or less important incidents leading up to war. Neither is there any doubt that a major war will be avoided for the present.

Japan will extend her empire through China by degrees. The Soviet will not fight; both Britain and the U. S. are too busy.

Mussolini will crush Ethiopia and extend his imperial colonization there. Britain will not like it because it places him more threateningly on the trade route to India, but will not cause a war. Hitler will absorb and colonize the states to the east toward Russia. The Reds will view with alarm, but keep their swords in their scabbards.

GOSSIP-NOTIONS.
There continues to be much gossip about Mr. Hoover being the power behind the "grass roots" convention about the Hoover crowd getting back into the party saddle; about Mr. Hoover himself as a candidate next year.

These popular gossip notions are not shared by the Republican long-rangers viewing the situation from Washington. As nearly all of them see it, Mr. Hoover is a titular leader without a substantial personal following; a good liaison man who can talk to every Republican leader about principles but who cannot count on their support for the next Republican nomination; an acting leader pending the selection of another. As far as Republicans in Washington are concerned, there isn't any strictly "Hoover crowd."

COTTON.
A new gold-embossed idea has been placed confidentially on the desks of the foremost New Dealers by "the committee for economic recovery." This is the committee of business men who have been co-operating unofficially with the New Deal. You may recall that the committee submitted an extensive recovery plan several weeks ago in a lavishly prepared, leather-bound book, on which the name of each New Deal recipient was embossed in gold. The latest confidential tome is a second edition of the first and contains an interesting proposal for a new deal cotton program.

What it wants primarily is a reduction to ten cents of loans on 1935-36 crops; retention of the present processing tax; announcement that the government will dispose of cotton now on hand; a quick announcement of policy from the AAA.

As a future long range policy, it recommends benefit payments on a tariff compensatory scale to be based on gross income rather than price per pound; sale of cotton on a net weight basis.

POWER.
The new blue book also advocates a foreign trade policy to "remove as many barriers as possible;" encouragement for stabilization of currencies; quick action on the Japanese imports report from the tariff commission; several permanent cotton committees to be established within the government to study and help cotton.

The book was presented privately to members of the cabinet committee now studying cotton who will decide what to do about it. But it is more than a mere off-hand secret recommendation from a business committee. This blue book crowd has strong political backing inside the New Deal.

CAUTION.
An elderly lady of good family, but in reduced circumstances, applied for relief at the Washington office. She insisted on telling her life story before the case workers could pin her down to a few questions of fact. When shown the application blank and asked to sign, she drew herself up, saying:

"I never sign papers without consulting my lawyer. I shall have to show this to him."

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

FIGHT.
NEW YORK, June 11.—Steel men wish their customers would take them seriously when they insist they will maintain the present scale of wages, hours and prices. Many of the customers seem to have their doubts about it. At any rate they are sitting persistently quiet and waiting for something to break.

The resulting decline in orders is one reason for the sharp tone of the Iron and Steel Institute's statement that the status quo will be preserved. It's hoped that emphasis will carry conviction. If it doesn't there's no telling what will happen. The lighter the business the heavier the temptation to consign code practices to the wastebasket and go on a price-cutting spree—a fact of which buyers are well aware. If price cuts come wage cuts will follow—and then there would be the devil to pay. Steel workers are not so supremely satisfied with existing conditions that they will placidly swallow a reduction in their earnings—and plenty of people keep reminding them that they must fight at the first sign of a change for the worse.

INCONSISTENT.
A keen New York observer remarks that consumers certainly have peculiar ideas.

Many of them favor higher wages and are inclined to be very critical of any company which tries to slash its payroll. Yet at the same time they want lower prices for the goods they buy and are likely to refuse to purchase unless they get them—thereby tending to force wages down.

Manufacturers concede that both these attitudes are natural even if contradictory. What irks them is that the average citizen doesn't seem to realize his inconsistency.

AMBITIOUS.
FDR has left the Industrial and Business Conference for NRA Extension out on a limb. Here they went to work and doped out a plan to pulmotor the Blue Eagle and the President goes off on another tangent entirely. Their project to preserve the codes was far broader in scope than the NRA skeleton he asks for—and some of the boys feel he isn't as appreciative of their efforts as he might be.

The backbone of the Committee's plan was to summon the Governors and Attorneys-General of the 48 states into conference to agree to measures to be adopted by all states for the protection of NRA principles. Meanwhile the existing codes were to have been kept in effect for 90 days by general consent. It was felt that action by the states would eliminate all constitutional objections.

Informed New Yorkers agree that the plan was legally impeccable but rate it about as practical as a pair of rubber boots in the Sahara desert. They cannot imagine the authorities of all the states reaching a workable agreement on any formula of business regulation—let alone in a grace period of 90 days. They are confident that FDR will get much farther in the end by shooting at a less ambitious target for the present.

COALITION.

The proposed political alliance between Republicans and conservative Democrats is like an automobile of the vintage of 1900—it's making plenty of noise but not much speed. Here are a couple of angles that intrigue New York.

Judge Pattangall—who resigned from the bench to help organize the movement—has quite a record for stirring up trouble. Back in 1924 he was one of the three Democratic leaders (the other two were Senator Harry Hawes of Missouri and the late Ed Moore of Ohio) who were chiefly responsible for stirring up the bitter convention fight on the Ku Klux issue. At the time Pattangall was running for Governor of Maine—unsuccessfully, it is turned out—and figured it would help him corral the French-Canadian vote if he blasted the daylight out of the Klan. It isn't likely that the judge can command much of a Democratic following. Then there's the question why ex-Senator David Reed of Pennsylvania is so pepped up about coalition. Political sharpshaws say the answer is that Pennsylvania—contrary to popular impression—is by no means sure to return to the Republican fold even if the G. O. registers substantial gains elsewhere. Senator Guffy has built up a remarkably efficient machine in a short time. He will have plenty of money to spend and knows how to spend it. The situation is very painful to wealthy Republican interests with whom Reed is friendly and they're grabbing at every straw which increases their chances of relief next year.

POTENT.

President Roosevelt is credited with a smart move in belittling beforehand the value of restricting government purchases to firms which adhere to NRA schedules of wages and hours. The public has been led to expect nothing and any progress that is made can be emphasized accordingly.

It's true that trying to control industrial standards by this method is something like trying to steer the Normandie with a canoe paddle. But if the same restrictions can be made to apply to all purchases with funds advanced by PWA or some other government agency—which is not yet certain—the weapon might turn out to be far more potent than people expect.

VERSED.

Mayor LaGuardia's friendly attitude toward the administration has stimulated a persistent report that he will run for re-election in 1937 as the regular Democratic candidate with FDR's backing and thus spike Tammany's guns. It's a lovely dream but it doesn't make sense. Mr. Roosevelt will need Tammany support next year if he isn't to get a black eye in his home state. There's no earthly reason why he should antagonize the Tiger to help someone who is no use to him politically. There's no doubt that LaGuardia has ambitions—but those who should know say they are national rather than municipal and look farther ahead than 1937. Both the President and the Mayor are too well versed in the gentle art of politics to go in for anything so naive.

SIDELIGHTS.

The second instalment of New York State's income tax has been moved up a month this year to help balance the current budget. This hasn't popularized Governor Lehman in Wall Street. Inventories built up in anticipation of inflation may slow up summer buying.

AIR CONDITIONING BOOKLET RECEIVED

Cooling of homes in the summer soon will be no novelty; equipment to provide air conditioning as an all-year process will probably become commonplace, according to a bulletin received by the local farm advisor's office.

These predictions are made by Dr. Baldwin M. Woods and Benedict F. Raber, professors of mechanical engineering in the University of California, in Bulletin 589 of the College of Agriculture, entitled "Air Conditioning for Private Homes." The bulletin which tells of methods of air conditioning for homes, may be obtained free from the farm advisor's office at Santa Ana.

The various systems of cooling in summer and heating in winter are discussed, and plans for combination equipment are given.

WIFE 'KIDNAPING' FOUND UNFOUNDED

Trinidad Lopez Coloma, Mexican wife of Bob Coloma, Placentia Filipino, probably left Coloma voluntarily on Friday instead of being kidnapped as charged, according to finding of Deputy Sheriff R. E. Steinberger who investigated the case.

Charges that Coloma had used a drug to entice the girl away from Peoria, Arizona, to her subsequent marriage to Coloma in New Mexico, were made to Steinberger by Mrs. Maria Lopez of Glendale, Arizona, during the course of the investigation.

Following the marriage, Trinidad was disowned by her mother, Steinberger found, because of the Filipino's unpopularity with the family.

350 WORKERS AT IRVINE PARK PICNIC

Approximately 350 Mexican and white members of the Workers clubs of Orange county and their friends enjoyed a picnic in the new section of Irvine park Sunday. The SERRA Hillbillies and the Spanish Troubadours furnished music at intervals during the day. A basket lunch was followed by a number of speakers from the local clubs and the Public Works and Unemployed League with which they are affiliated. During the day 35 new members joined from all sections of the county. It was reported.

Walter Armstrong, president of the Santa Ana club was master of ceremonies.

Make Happiness a Habit

Wouldn't you like to step up the amount of enjoyment you get from life? The knack of keeping fit is largely a matter of regular habits. Your happiness may be hampered by common constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in your meals.

Did you know that your greens has a natural cereal food which corrects this condition? Kellogg's All-Brand, eaten regularly, supplies generous "bulk." Also vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" in All-Brand is gentle—and safe for normal individuals. More effective than the "bulk" in leafy vegetables, as it does not break down within the body.

Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Isn't this natural food much better than taking patent medicines? Get Kellogg's All-Brand at your grocer's. It contains much more "bulk" than part-bran products. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

STARS BATTLE NEVA'S ARM, BAT

2500 SEE DEAN CRUSH FRALEY; BROWNING NEXT

"Man Mountain" Dean today wishes his old Ma and Pa and all the other Deans (nee Leavitt) could have been in little old Santa Ana, Cal., last night. The bearded monster could have shown them how their little boy has been getting on in the world.

"Strangler" Lewis once attracted a gate of $17 here and a wrestling extravaganza in the Municipal Bowl, several years ago, spread under a hundred.

But at the Orange County Athletic club last night, a turnaway crowd of 2500 filled every corner, cranny and aisle of Sam Sampson's clubhouse to see the mighty "Man Mountain" and his merry-men.

Dean Gives Good Show
It goes without saying that under such circumstances the Man Mountain extended himself to victory, taking the third and deciding fall from Pat Fraley. The neophytes at ringside were in a bedlam when Dean, eyes bulging, great stomach rolling like a bag of jelly, prepared to end Fraley's days on earth with his famed "broad-jump"—as Fraley lay on the floor in a daze. Referee Mickey McManis stopped the track meet at that point.

Perhaps Dean will be permitted to squish Jim Brown next Monday night, for Browning it will be against the Man Mountain. Browning formerly held the world's heavyweight championship.

The best "hold" of the Dean heaved 315-pound Dean on the shoulders, who weighs 135. McManis was hopelessly pinned and his contortions while trying to extricate himself were things of beauty. Dean was immovable, and to complicate matters, Fraley was on Dean, making a load of 335 pounds for the little fellow to hold.

Fraley, too, needed a derick. His best efforts were none too good at moving the monster, and Dean's most effective strategy was to get on his hands and knees in the center of the ring and let Fraley grunt and tug in an effort to move him. Disgusted, Fraley would kick the Dean contemptuously in the tummy, not even fracturing Dean's elephantine calm.

Eventually Fraley pinned him like a butterfly, suffering great anguish of spirit, puffed out cold sweat and had to be lugged to his corner by three men and a boy. Time, 11:07.

Man Mountain Limp
For the second fall, Dean, who was limping and gesticulating, waded into a barrage of rights and lefts, grabbed young Fraley, and flung him into the ozone, nearly breaking his fall, in 1:50, technically called a body slam.

Fraley didn't like it, and had a tough time getting to his corner. He was shaking like a leaf in a gale as he came out, and Dean whipped right into him, throwing him into the ropes three or four times, onto his dainty ears a couple of times, and eventually picking him up for an airplane spin, which as Dean was backing up to get a good run for his broad jump, with rumble seat drawn and ready, the referee arrested him.

Preliminaries Supply Color
The other three matches merely lent atmosphere to the appearance of the Brooklyn billy.

Tony Pelice and Carlos Sabo tangled in the semi-windup, Sabo winning in 11:17 with a double over-body slam. They were a couple of bad boys, persisting in mix-up after the fall.

Feasting in his barfett, "Rusty" Westcott of Hawaii was methodically tied into knots by ferocious Elmer ("Stink") Steinko. It lasted 11:12. This time the fall was called an overboard body drop.

Tiger Nelson, colored, and Al Tafford drew in the curtain-raiser. They drew and aimlessly, the black boy gnawing with toothless gums on Tafford's features when the referee wasn't looking.

BRITISH OPEN GOLF DRAWS 132 ENTRIES

LONDON, June 11.—(UP)—Seven United States players, few of whom are actually expected to compete, were listed today in entries for the British Open golf championship starting at Muirfield, June 24.

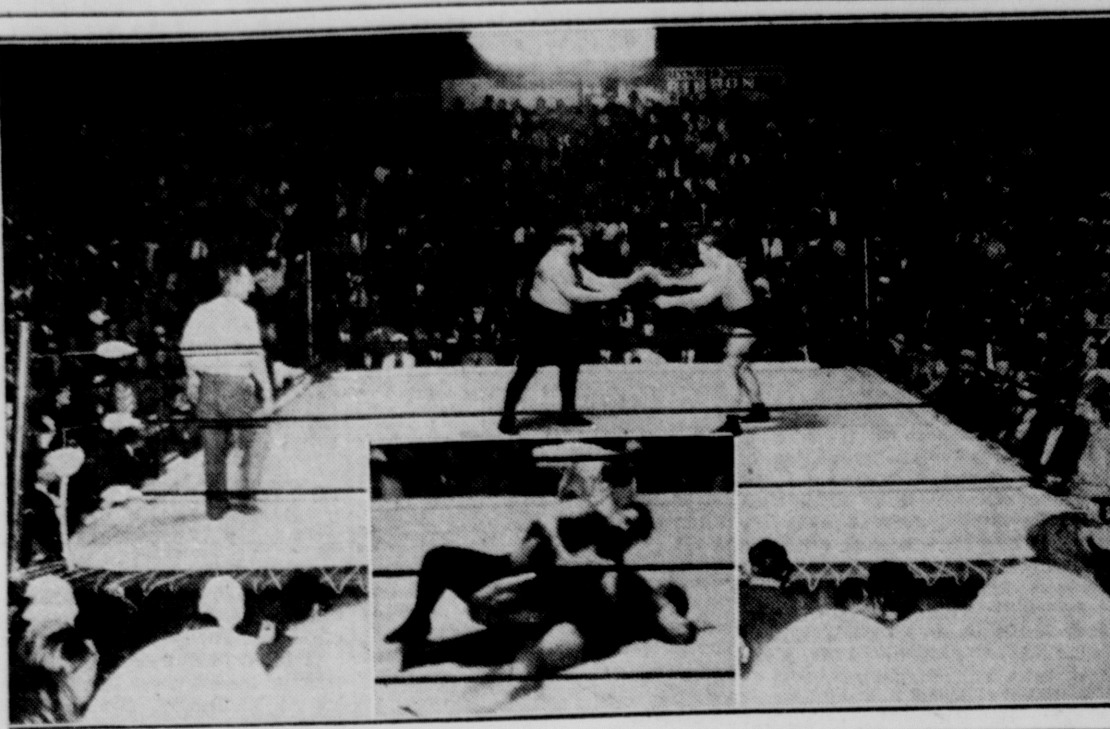

They are Gene Sarazen, Lawson Little, MacDonald Smith, Joe Kirkwood, Joe Ezar, Henry Picard, William Medart, and Frank Ball. Little, Kirkwood, Medart and Ball are the only certain starters.

Virtually every British player of note is entered. The field includes Jack McLean, Scottish star; Henry Cotton, last year's winner; and Abe Mitchell, Archie Compston, Alfred Padgham and Cyril Tooley.

In all a field of 132 was named for the event which begins June 24 with qualifying tests at Muirfield and Gullane. The field will be split between these courses on the 24th and 25th, each player completing one round on each course. The low 100 will play the first round on the tourney proper at Muirfield on the 26th, and the second round on the 27th. The low 60 and ties will play the final two rounds on the 28th.

"COME, LITTLE MAN! I WON'T HOIT YOU!"

Look out, Pat Fraley! That man is after you! But Fraley wouldn't listen, and soon after this picture was snapped at the Orange County Athletic club last night, "Man Mountain" Dean felled Fraley for the third and deciding fall of their tug-of-war. The inset shows Dean, 317-pound bearded giant, applying the pressure to one of Fraley's unhappy legs. Next week, Dean will wrestle Jim Brown here. Browning once held the world title. The photo gives an indication of the big crowd which gathered to watch Dean and his merry-men.

Irvine at Fullerton: Brea at Huntington Beach; Garden Grove at San Juan Capistrano; Olive at Placentia.

Brea barged into first place in the Orange County Night Ball league today, the one and only undefeated club after its 3-1 triumph over Fullerton at Brea last night.

A large crowd watched the 1934 champions come from behind in the last of the fifth, tie the count at 1-1 on Griffith's double and Goodman's single, take a 2-1 lead in the sixth on three infield hits and an error by Reno, and clinch victory in the eighth on two walks and two errors. Fullerton's only run came in the fifth on Donaldson's double which Goodman let roll through him.

Irvine fattened its batting average with a 27-6 win over Garden Grove—Abern, Staples and Sears all collecting four hits each. Pitcher Otto went the distance for the Peppers despite the terrific base-knock bawling. His nightcap was the seventh in which 13 Irvine batsmen figured in the scoring of 13 runs.

San Juan Capistrano came to life with a 7-6 win over Placentia. A wild pitch by Pitcher Bob Jones let in the winning run in the last of the eighth. The score:

SEEK PITTS PAROLE IF LANDIS ADAMANT

ALBANY, N. Y., June 11.—(UP)—Edwin (Alabama) Pitts, paroled Sing Sing prison inmate, awaited word today on his appeal from a ruling banning ex-convicts from organized baseball.

"Alabama" has appealed to baseball's highest authority, Judge K. M. Landis, for a "chance to make good."

John J. Evers, general manager of the Albany International league Senators who signed Pitts, sent a separate appeal.

Should Landis join Judge W. G. Bramham, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues, and the association's executive committee in deciding against the ex-convict, Evers plans to appeal to Gov. Lehman for an "outright" pardon.

Warren C. Giles, chairman of the executive committee, said he would reopen the case should Lehman grant the pardon.

Mrs. Moody To Beat Miss Jacobs'—Fuller

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—(UP)—Helen Willis Moody will defeat Helen Jacobs if the two Berkeley girls meet in the finals of the women's tennis championships at Wimbledon, England, in the opinion of W. C. (Pop) Fuller, famous coach who taught them both.

But Fuller isn't certain that Miss Jacobs ever will reach the finals. He is more positive about Mrs. Moody, who is in his mind "still the world's No. 1 player."

"Mrs. Moody has not slipped," Fuller said. "The fact that she lost a set while playing in a tournament last week doesn't mean a thing. Helen was just taking it easy."

Helen Jacobs, American Women's champion to whom Mrs. Moody defaulted in her last championship appearance in 1932, lacks steadiness in the opinion of the veteran coach. "She loses to people she should beat," he said. "Take that German player for instance, Hilda Kraus. She seems to have Helen's number. She beat her at Wimbledon last year and in France again this year."

Fuller thinks he can name at least five players who can defeat Miss Jacobs; none who can beat Mrs. Moody. In the former category he included Fraulien Krawinkel, Peggy Scrivner, Frida James, Dorothy Round and Mary Hardwick.

The two Helens play the same kind of game. "I taught them both the same way," Fuller said. "There is little mechanical difference between their games."

Asked to explain why he preferred Helen the first to Helen No. 2, Fuller said it was a matter of temperament.

"Helen Moody is unaffected by a gallery, a bad shot, or an adverse decision of an official," he said. "She never lets anything bother her while playing. She probably has the finest temperament of any woman athlete in the world."

"Helen Jacobs, on the other hand, can be thrown off her game by any of those things. As a result, she loses to players she should beat."

Bud Jefferson and Sam Francis divided the pitching for the clubmen in the absence of Joe Cornelius. Both were shelled hard, especially Jefferson who lasted only three innings. Brooks and Dorsey hit homers off Jefferson. The 20-30's won only by hitting O'Campo harder than the Juniors slapped Jefferson and Francis.

The Santa Ana Elks had easy going in the 8:30 feature, shellacking the First National bank, 11-2. Elwood Lindley pitched four-hit ball for the B.P.O.E., which leveled on Walt Jordan for seven runs in four rounds.

First place will be decided Thursday when the Union Oilers meet the 20-30 team at the Bowl. A 20-30 victory clinches the championship for the clubmen whereas a Union Oil win would throw the race into a three-way tie with some kind of a playoff necessary.

WARREN WINS OWN GAME AT WILLARD

By Tom Engelman
Led by Ken Warren, ace hurler and hard-hitter, the L-9-1A's yesterday captured the interclass baseball championship at Frances Willard Junior high school, defeating the L-9-2's, 4 to 3.

Warren was touched for three hits and as many runs in the first inning but thereafter pitched hitless ball. The score was tied going into the last inning. Then, with two away and "Doc" Lutz on base, Warren won his own game with a single.

In the Willard all-star series, Team No. 1 won from Team No. 2 by a score of 7-4.

NEW YORK, June 11.—(UP)—Interclass battles commanded the attention of major league clubs today, with National league teams playing in the east and American league clubs in the west.

With their only 300 hitter, Lou Gehrig, nursing a badly sprained right shoulder, the Yankees face tough competition on their Western junket. Three of the western clubs, the White Sox, Indians and Tigers, are snapping at the Yankees' heels.

The Yanks open their western invasion with six games in four days at St. Louis, and have postponed games to play in Chicago and Detroit.

Ted Shipkey Gets Jaysee Coaching Job

Fullerton's Ted Shipkey, All-America in 1926, today was elected football and track coach at Long Beach junior college at a salary of $2,600 annually.

Shipkey, now assistant at Los Angeles Jaysees, will succeed Rocky Kemp, who has been transferred, at his own request, to David Starr Jordan high school in North Long Beach.

After making football history at Fullerton high school, Shipkey played under "Pop" Warner at Stanford. Then he coached three years at Fullerton Jaysees, moving in 1930 to Arizona State Teachers' college at Tempe.

Commercial Nat'l. Bank 0 5 .000

Thursday's Games
7:30 p. m.—Commercial National bank vs. M. E. South Seniors; 8:30 p. m.—Union Oil vs. 20-30 Club.

Captain Roy Burns and his 20-30 club baseball team say they don't want any more "breathers" like Justice Kenneth Morrison's M. E. South Juniors turned out to be last night.

Rated as a pushover for the undefeated City league-leaders, who had their eyes glued on Thursday night's championship date with the Union Oilers, the South Methodists were barely beaten after seven tough innings, 13 to 12.

Clarence Patmor finally made the winning run for the 20-30's in the last of the seventh. Darwin Scott led off with a walk and Patmor singled. McIlvaine popped up and Walker forced Scott, but Lutz grounded to Brooks who erred and Patmor rushed home.

Bud Jefferson and Sam Francis divided the pitching for the clubmen in the absence of Joe Cornelius. Both were shelled hard, especially Jefferson who lasted only three innings. Brooks and Dorsey hit homers off Jefferson. The 20-30's won only by hitting O'Campo harder than the Juniors slapped Jefferson and Francis.

The Santa Ana Elks had easy going in the 8:30 feature, shellacking the First National bank, 11-2. Elwood Lindley pitched four-hit ball for the B.P.O.E., which leveled on Walt Jordan for seven runs in four rounds.

First place will be decided Thursday when the Union Oilers meet the 20-30 team at the Bowl. A 20-30 victory clinches the championship for the clubmen whereas a Union Oil win would throw the race into a three-way tie with some kind of a playoff necessary.

WARREN WINS OWN GAME AT WILLARD

By Tom Engelman
Led by Ken Warren, ace hurler and hard-hitter, the L-9-1A's yesterday captured the interclass baseball championship at Frances Willard Junior high school, defeating the L-9-2's, 4 to 3.

Warren was touched for three hits and as many runs in the first inning but thereafter pitched hitless ball. The score was tied going into the last inning. Then, with two away and "Doc" Lutz on base, Warren won his own game with a single.

In the Willard all-star series, Team No. 1 won from Team No. 2 by a score of 7-4.

NEW YORK, June 11.—(UP)—Interclass battles commanded the attention of major league clubs today, with National league teams playing in the east and American league clubs in the west.

With their only 300 hitter, Lou Gehrig, nursing a badly sprained right shoulder, the Yankees face tough competition on their Western junket. Three of the western clubs, the White Sox, Indians and Tigers, are snapping at the Yankees' heels.

The Yanks open their western invasion with six games in four days at St. Louis, and have postponed games to play in Chicago and Detroit.

Olive 2 3 .400
Anaheim 1 4 .200
Long Beach 0 5 .000

Santa Ana at Huntington Beach; Long Beach at Anaheim; Olive at Westminster.

No hill is too steep for a climber, and so tonight scrappy Joe Rodgers and his Huntington Beach Oilers hope to begin an Omaha stretch-run that will lead them to the first half championship of the National Night Ball league.

Supremely confident now that the great Louie Neva has brought them his powerful pitching arm as well as his murderous war club, the Oilers believe they can start their "Garrison finish" against the team they'll have to beat for the pennant—Santa Ana's undefeated Stars.

The clubs clash in Huntington Beach, at 8 o'clock. Santa Ana fans are advised to travel via Huntington Beach boulevard to Seventeenth street. A large machine shop will identify the corner where the motorist should turn south as far as Delaware street, from where the park is visible.

Fear Neva's Hitting
Neva, a right-hander of distance, who averaged 432 last season, joined Huntington Beach last Friday in time to lead the Oilers to victory over Olive. As a member of the Hollywood Federal league club he appeared here this spring and blasted two homers, a double and a single off Jim Coates. As a matter of fact, even when Neva was hurling a mediocre Torrance team to the Southern Cal. championship two years ago, the Stars feared his bat more than his pitching.

To get Neva, Manager Rodgers incurred the wrath of the league and gave up four players—Pitcher Sabella, Infielder Murray and Outfielders Osborn and Zaby. The president of the league has ordered an investigation as to why Neva joined Huntington Beach rather than Long Beach, but no action will keep Larupin' Louie off the knoll tonight.

Bill Cole, Santa Ana's leader, professes no greater respect for Neva than Sabella, and flatly predicts a Star victory. "Louie is a powerful hitter," Cole admitted today, "but I believe Sabella is a better pitcher and pitching rather than hitting will decide this ball game. We're in the driver's seat. We can lose a game and still top the parade. The pressure will be on Huntington Beach, not us. The Oilers HAVE to win; we don't."

Oilers Shake Up Lineup
Most observers believe Santa Ana will breeze on to the first-half title if it beats Neva tonight. Huntington Beach has shaken up its lineup with the arrival of Neva and the departure of four it gave up for him. Randolph Bell, onetime Santa Ana, will head the batting order from his spot in left field. Bill McKinley, third baseman, will hit second, followed by Neva, Henry Thiery, Orv Schuchardt, Manager Rodgers, Bob Smith, Cecil Thompson, and Merv Lowther. Thompson is a new outfielder, a southpaw.

Cole says Santa Ana will start its usual lineup and batting order. Coates, of course, will pitch. "This is just another ball game as far as we are concerned," said the Stars' boss.

Other league conflicts send Olive to Westminster and Long Beach into Anaheim. Westminster and Anaheim will be favored by the slightest of margins. Olive and Long Beach are getting magnificent pitching these days and are liable to beat anybody.

Handicapped by a wet, soggy court and cross court tennis, Mrs. Moody played uncertain tennis at the opening. She lost the first two games, frequently outting the ball or permitting herself

CHILDREN GIVE PROGRAM FOR MESA CHURCH

COSTA MESA, June 11.—The annual Children's day program was held in the main auditorium of the Community church Sunday at the church Sunday school hour with the Rev. Grow S. Brown, general superintendent, in charge. Mrs. A. L. Pinkley, teacher in the intermediate department of the school, arranged the program. Frank Wells opened the program with a Scripture reading and benediction. Charlotte Best and Buster Pinkley, read the Twenty-third Psalm. Eddie Wilcox sang the Lord's Prayer and the entire beginners' department, directed by their superintendent, Mrs. Edna Gibson, sang "Praise Him" and "Little Hands to Work For Jesus." Primary department girls, Barbara Hicks, Rosalind Cleveland, Frances Wilcox, Florence Whitney and Eleanor Smejkel, gave an exercise and the entire department, directed by their superintendent, Mrs. Clara McMurtry, sang a selection with Miss Doris McMurtry at the piano. Bobby Beardsley played two piano solos.

A group of junior department girls, Julia Baird, Gracie Abrams, Leah Opp, Evelyn Ritter, Marjory Butts and Beulah Herndon, gave an exercise, and junior boys, Edward Wilcox, Roscoe Hildebrandt and Richard Otto, gave a recitation, "Helping the Church." Gladys Edick, Shirley Wright, Barbara Armstrong, Elva Page and Mildred Pettit, also of the junior department, gave an exercise entitled, "A Garden of Roses," and the entire department, directed by Miss Wanda Thompson at the piano, sang several numbers. Claude Crane and Bruce Lighter gave a reading, "Paul the Disciple."

A girls' trio from the intermediate department, Lois Dittmar, Arlene Riffle and Nita Wasson, sang a selection, and the entire department directed by Mrs. Pinkley at the piano, sang "Follow the Glean."

The Rev. W. I. Lowe, the church pastor, preached a sermon on the theme, "Fire From Heaven."

CHURCH ANNOUNCES PROGRAM FOR WEEK

BUENA PARK, June 11.—A number of affairs are planned for this week of special interest to members of the Congregational church. Past Presidents day will be observed by the Ladies' Aid at the organization meeting Thursday.

A special program will follow the noon covered dish luncheon. Under the direction of Mrs. L. R. Schofield, the aid held a cooked food sale Saturday morning at the H. H. Horn feed store on Grand avenue near Ninth street. The monthly cafeteria supper sponsored by the group will be held Friday evening at the church social hall. Service will be from 5:30 until 7 o'clock.

The church pastor, the Rev. F. Stanley Powles, is leaving this week for a vacation at his old home in Wisconsin. A schedule of supply ministers is being arranged for the church during the minister's absence.

Honor Couple At Farewell Affair

GARDEN GROVE, June 11.—Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Shackelford entertained with a 7 o'clock dinner party at their home west of town recently as a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nichols. Mrs. Nichols is leaving from Wilmington Friday for San Francisco, where she will be joined by her sister for a trip to Honolulu. Upon returning about August 1 Mr. and Mrs. Nichols will vacation in the mountains near Santa Cruz, while in the fall they expect to locate at Riverside. They have been residents here for a number of years.

For the dinner the group was seated at a table centered with a boat with streamers leading to place cards decorated with different modes of travel. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Nichols, Rev. and Mrs. Paul Younger, the Rev. and Mrs. C. N. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Kearns and Mr. and Mrs. Shackelford, of Garden Grove, and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Albee, of Yorba Linda.

The remainder of the time was spent playing the game of "stat-tieship." Friends of the honorees presented them with gifts.

MAGIC PROGRAM PRESENTED FOR B. & P. W. CLUB

ORANGE, June 11.—The last regular dinner meeting of the year for members of the Business and Professional Women's club was marked by a program of magic presented by Keller Watson Jr., of this city. Watson was principal of the Immanuel Lutheran church school at the same hour on Thursday in the social hall of the church.

William Batterman is the principal of St. John's school where 21 boys and girls will receive diplomas. E. T. Pringle is principal of the Immanuel school. Six pupils are to be graduated. Interesting programs have been arranged for both schools. A play, "What Happened at Brents," will be given at St. John's school by the graduating class and the entire school will give a tableau, "Luther at Worms". Music and readings will supplement these features.

The Immanuel school will present a cantata, "Friends of Hiawatha" and the commencement address will be given by the pastor of the church, the Rev. A. G. Webber. Essays and other features will complete the program. Miss Dorothy Struck is to give the valedictory address and Miss Louise Heim the response.

Guests at the meeting were Miss Nellie E. Crist, Mrs. Sarah Pinson, Mrs. Keller Watson Jr., Mrs. Reva Brewster and Miss Anne Huscroft. Members present were Dr. Florence Brown, Mrs. Lucille Brubaker, Miss Dorothy Bartley, Mrs. Alice Batterman, Miss Irene Blower, Mrs. Alice Cole, Miss Lullia Outright, Mrs. Melba Chandler, Miss Mattie Dannemann, Mrs. Florence Donegan, Miss Leona Freeman, Miss Ella Klander, Miss Gertrude Klander, Mrs. Mary Martin, Mrs. Mary Nies, Mrs. Ted Neely, Mrs. Amy Palmer, Miss Dorothy Perkins, Miss Nellie Pister, Mrs. Audrey Peterson, Mrs. Elfriede Shannon, Mrs. Nellie Rumph, Mrs. Margaret Spaulding, Miss Bernice Vestal and Mrs. Eula Weaver.

PUPILS OF TWO LUTHERAN SCHOOLS ARRANGE PROGRAMS

ORANGE, June 11.—Graduation exercises of the St. John's Lutheran church school are scheduled for tomorrow night at the Walker Memorial hall at 7:30 o'clock and those of the Immanuel Lutheran church school at the same hour on Thursday in the social hall of the church.

William Batterman is the principal of St. John's school where 21 boys and girls will receive diplomas. E. T. Pringle is principal of the Immanuel school. Six pupils are to be graduated.

Minister Leaves For Ohio Meeting

ORANGE, June 11.—The Rev. A. C. Bode, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, left Tuesday for Cleveland, Ohio, where he will attend the twenty-first delegates' convention of the Missouri synod, as a representative of the Southern California district of the synod.

On his return to Orange he will stop at Brownston, Minn., where he has been invited to give the main address at the celebration of the 40th anniversary of a Lutheran church in that city, where he served as pastor for 13 years.

The Rev. Mr. Bode announced that he will also visit with friends and relatives in Oklahoma and in Fairmont, Minn.

ORANGE PERSONALS

Orange, June 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Rex Shannon, of East Maple avenue, had as their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Gage Shannon, of Alhambra; Mrs. A. C. Ripley and Mrs. Cora Castle, of Long Beach. James Krueger, of Los Angeles, spent the week end visiting in Orange.

Weekend guests in the past Palmyra home of Mr. and Mrs. George Sherwood included a group whose friendship began several years ago in Canon City, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. William Mack and daughter, Marjorie and Julia Ruth, of San Diego, and Miss Ruth Lewis and Reynolds Lewis, of Los Angeles.

Social Enjoyed By Church Group

ORANGE, June 11.—Entertaining in the patio of the local First Presbyterian church, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Burns McAulay were hosts Sunday evening to members of the church high school department.

Dainty refreshments were served from a table centered with pink carnations and baby breath and lighted with harmonizing tapers. Following the social period, the high school Christian Endeavor meeting was conducted, with Gilbert Bell presiding as leader for the evening. Musical selections were provided by Miss Dorothy Flintham, soprano, accompanied at the piano by Miss Miriam Powell.

TRAGEDY IN THE MAKING

(Copyright by the Pathe Newsreel.)
FACING APPROACHING DEATH calmly this man and woman stood atop their stalled auto in flood-swollen Fountain creek at Colorado Springs, as hundreds grouped at points of safety back from the torrent watched in horror, praying for a miraculous rescue. Poised on the barn roof across from the couple a swimmer weighed his chance of leaping into the roaring stream to attempt a rescue.

(Copyright by the Pathe Newsreel.)
THE FLOOD CREPT HIGHER, but no plea came from Helen Carver and Orville Neil. They dropped to their knees for steadier positions as the auto was turned end for end by the swift, mounting current. The swimmer on the barn had seen the futility of a rescue plunge. Debris and rising water forced spectators from the foreground. A few moments later the two victims were swept to their death.

young men, Seymour Paul, budding Laguna artist, and Jerome Briggs, Balboa writer, had a hankering for going places. They stowed away on the Matson liner Malolo for Honolulu. They had hid themselves in the rumble seat of a large coupe shipped to the islands. A flat tire—usually a source of annoyance—led to their undoing as the car was brought ashore on the dock at Honolulu. The youths were treated to a free passage back to California.

Saturday young Paul renewed his acquaintance with the Malolo and its officers and deckhands. This time, however, instead of traveling in the hold, he enjoyed the comforts of first-class accommodations while crossing the Pacific enroute to Honolulu. He expects to remain in the islands for a couple of years. Jerome Briggs is in London engaged in the writing a book, setting forth his travel experiences, for which he already has received advanced royalties by a London publishing house.

PENSION CLUB DELEGATES GO TO CONVENTION

Delegates to the district convention of Townsend clubs held yesterday at Riverside, for Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties, left from Townsend headquarters in Santa Ana.

Representatives from 13 Santa Ana clubs were elected during the past week to serve at the convention, and delegates were also elected from clubs throughout the county. Those in the party were: A. G. Diehl, president of club No. 1; T. W. Ringland, No. 2; Paul Andrews, No. 3; W. E. Rockwell, No. 4; J. A. Yerger, president of club No. 5; Mrs. Mary Herring, president of club No. 6; P. E. Benthien, No. 7; J. Hall, No. 8; Fred Volmer, president of club No. 9; W. H. Paul, No. 10; Fred Henderson, president of No. 11; J. R. Barber, No. 12, and Dr. J. Waters, No. 13.

Huntington Beach was represented by John Marshall, Laguna Beach by J. H. Hinkley, and Orange by Clay Holt, E. E. Gould and Sam Dotson.

Dr. Fred Allison and Edgar J. Murphy have discovered that gold, platinum, and five other chemical elements are mixtures of atoms chemically the same, but different in weight.

BARBECUE PLANNED BY HEALTH BUREAU

Plans were being completed today for the fourth annual barbecue of California Unit No. 1, Chiropractic Health Bureau, National, to be held Sunday, June 23 in the mountain home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schwendeman, at Trabuco Oaks in Trabuco Canyon. Auxiliary officers and members have invited many friends to join in this event, which includes the serving at noon of barbecued beef, lima beans, chile con carne and coffee, at a nominal sum per plate. Everyone attending is expected to furnish such salad and dessert as is wished.

A public address system will insure everyone being able to hear the afternoon program of vocal and instrumental music and short talks. There will be a puppet show by Max Elliott, checker and horseshoe pitching contests, horseback riding and bicycling, and Clint Brush will be there with his famous educated horse. It was announced.

Daily Vacation School Is Opened

WINTERSBURG, June 11.—The Daily Vacation Bible school for the Wintersburg Methodist church opened Monday morning with over 50 pupils enrolled. The school opens each day of the two weeks session at 9 o'clock and each department will have its special program and teachers.

TOWNSEND CLUBS MEET AT LAGUNA

C. F. Anderson, president of the Laguna Beach Townsend club, today announced that Charles J. Caldwell, of Pasadena, noted economist and national speaker on the Townsend Pension Plan, will be the principal speaker at a mass meeting to be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Community Presbyterian church in Laguna Beach. The audience will be drawn from Townsend clubs in Laguna, San Juan Capistrano, San Clemente, South Laguna, Newport, Balboa and Costa Mesa, it was explained by Anderson, who added that the meeting is open to the public.

STUDEBAKER still stock car champion OF INDIANAPOLIS SPEEDWAY!

THIS year, the specially built racing cars swept the boards in the Memorial Day race at the Indianapolis Speedway. Not a car produced by a stock manufacturer was able to last the 500 miles. The great performance at Indianapolis is still Studebaker's. In 1932 and 1933, the last time Studebaker contested, cars entered by the Studebaker factory finished brilliantly. In 1933, seven of the first twelve winners were Studebaker powered. In 1932, the leading Studebaker broke all previous time records for the race.

Get that speedway stamina in your 1935 car. Get a Studebaker—Champion. You can do so now for just a few dollars more than you have to pay for one of the very lowest priced cars.

Will Build $15,000 Model Home In Orange County

SAN CLEMENTE IS CHOSEN AS PROJECT SITE

The first of 20 model homes allocated to Southern California, which will be built by the General Electric corporation, will be started in San Clemente immediately. It was announced today by Hamilton H. Cotton, well known San Clemente and Los Angeles financier.

The homes are being built as the result of a recent nation-wide contest, in which architectural plans for 65 model homes were selected by the corporation, to be built throughout the nation. The San Clemente home, to be built at an approximate cost of $15,000, will be a beach house model.

The house, which will be completely furnished and electrically equipped, will have 12 rooms, and will be finished by the first of September, Cotton announced. It will be located on a lot fronting on Avenida Valencia, owned by the corporation, and will be built to conform to architectural board specifications of the city.

It later will be opened to the public, and put on exhibition for a three-month period. Three or four additional model homes probably will be built in Orange county by General Electric. Cotton said, as a part of the nation-wide advertising campaign.

The city of San Clemente will cooperate in furnishing street improvements and utility service, Mayor A. T. Smith said today.

A PLEASANT TRANSACTION

Mrs. Jessie Osteen, of 409 South Birch street, seems to be extremely happy in the picture below, and well she might be, for she was the winner of the de luxe Westinghouse refrigerator given away by Harwood's as one of the major prizes in the Register Better Housing exhibit, which closed here Saturday night. H. H. Harwood, proprietor of Harwood's, is shown at the right of the picture.

SMITH IS NAMED MANAGER OF STORE

Walter Swanberger today announced the appointment of Phil W. Smith, who has been connected with Silverwood's and Desmonds for a number of years, as manager of the clothing department of Swanberger's Store for Men at 205 West Fourth street.

Smith comes to Santa Ana directly from Desmonds where he has been employed as assistant manager for the past four years. He was with Silverwood's in Long Beach for nine years. He is married, has one boy and is living at 705 Hickory.

Steady growth of the business has made it necessary to add to the staff at Swanberger's, according to Swanberger, who said: "We feel that Phil will be welcomed by all of our friends. He is well acquainted with the quality lines which are sold in the exclusive metropolitan stores and which we handle in Santa Ana."

"We have tried to select a man with modern ideas on merchandising who is personally acquainted with the same high quality lines that we are carrying. The success of our store so far has been the direct result of carrying nothing but merchandise of the finest quality and durability. Inasmuch as this policy has brought us many friends, it will be continued and furthered by our new clothing department manager."

Smith, who is a member of the Phi Sigma fraternity of Long Beach, plans to transfer his membership here.

NEPHEW OF S. A. MAN AIDS WORK ON RADIO TUBE

Word has been received by C. Bondley, 1068 West First street, Santa Ana, that his grand-nephew, Ralph J. Bondley, has been honored by the devoting of an entire page of "Electronics," trade magazine, to a discussion of the new type all-metal radio tube, the development of which is partly the work of the younger Bondley.

The young man, whose home is in Marion, Ohio, is one of three men who developed the new tube, which, it is claimed, will revolutionize radio sets. The new tubes have many improvements over their glass predecessors, their inventors say, and combine ruggedness, small size and improved characteristics with a simplicity of design.

Young Bondley worked with G. P. Metcalf and J. E. Beggs, prominent Eastern electrical engineers, in working out the invention. He is an electrical engineer with the General Electric company in Schenectady, New York, and at the present time is factory engineer in charge of the production of the new tubes, which will be on the market soon.

The pages of a book are called leaves because the leaves of certain plants were used to write upon before invention of paper.

Builds Model Home; Gets Steady Job

Because of his excellent work in building a miniature house for exhibit in the Los Angeles Better Housing show, Francis Glockner, Santa Ana High school boy, who lives at 1337 South Garnsey street, is spared the troubled thoughts that are bothering so many of his class-mates at this time—where to get a job?

Francis, who graduates this month from Santa Ana High school, has a job, and a good one, which he earned himself. First he built the model home, which won a great deal of praise from audiences at the Los Angeles exhibit.

For the general excellence of his work, the Barr Lumber company, put young Glockner in charge of a special booth at the Santa Ana and Better Housing exhibit, sponsored by The Register.

And because he seemed generally fitted for the work and had proven himself capable, the Barr Lumber company offered him a job at their mill in Santa Ana, as soon as he graduates from school.

KIWANIANS TO HEAR TALK ON RAILROAD WEEK

Santa Ana Kiwanis club will assist in the celebration of Railroad Week, which starts June 10 and continues through June 15, by staging a special railroad program tomorrow noon in James' cafe. It was announced today by Gustav Leive, secretary.

Edmund R. Gregory, member of the local club who is chairman of the group in Orange county which is helping to center interest on the improved service which both passenger and freight trains are giving, will act as chairman of the day.

Charles Swanner, who represents the legal department of the Santa Fe locally, will introduce the speaker of the day, who is Leo E. Sievert, senior trial attorney for the Santa Fe, with headquarters in Los Angeles.

Another feature of the program tomorrow will be a forum talk to be given by Dr. H. McVicker Smith. This is one of the series of forum talks given by members of the club under the direction of John A. Harvey.

$18,000,000 TRUST INDENTURE FILED AT COUNTY OFFICE

An $18,000,000 trust indenture, made by the San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric company in favor of the Bank of America National Trust and Savings association, to secure a bonded indebtedness of like amount, was filed for record here yesterday, being of sufficient importance to the financial world to occasion a telephone call to Miss Justine Whitney, county recorder from the Chase National Bank in New York City.

The New York bank called to verify the fact that the document had been recorded.

The indenture does not set a record in size, Miss Whitney said, but is one of the largest recorded in recent years. It was filed by the Orange County Title company, and replaces an old trust indenture, the release of which was filed by Frank Was, manager of the Security-First National Bank here.

PUBLIC OPINION DEMANDS DEATH FOR KIDNAPERS

Santa Ana joined with the nation in breathing a sigh of thankfulness when it learned that two of the kidnapers of little George Weyerhaeuser had been captured by federal officers, and that the capture of the rest of the gang seemed imminent.

On the eve of the trial which will be held to determine the penalty the kidnap gang must pay for its crime, a Register reporter interviewed citizens of Santa Ana at random on the streets today, in an effort to determine the temper of public opinion on the subject.

Some of the answers were brief and succinct; others gave evidence of careful thought. But all in all it seemed that Santa Ana wants that gang, if guilty, to pay. Some of the Santa Ana's interviewed, and their answers, are listed below.

A. B. Roussele, real estate and investment broker: "They should be hanged by the neck until dead."

Mrs. C. Warburton, secretary: "If you're too lenient with people like that the others will never learn that this sort of crime doesn't pay. They ought to hang."

A legionnaire, who preferred to say he was a stranger in Santa Ana, and who gave his occupation as salesman: "They should at least get life, but I don't know. They didn't do any real harm, and it seems a little steep to kill them."

Mrs. Martha Lester, waitress: "Hang them."

A. C. Stauffer, bank teller: "I think they should hang them."

I. M. Paustell, titer for the Southern Counties Gas Co.: "You know what the law they passed says. String 'em up."

Miss Loreta Buchfield, Bible student: "Same as the other kidnapers. They should be hanged until there is not a breath in them."

J. S. Metzger, real estate broker: "Their trial should be short and snappy, and devoid of as many legal technicalities as possible. The judge and jury should exert their best efforts to get at the truth. And then if they are reasonably sure of their guilt they should imprison them for life, with absolutely no chance of pardon or parole. I don't think they're very afraid of death, but they wouldn't like being shut up for the rest of their lives."

C. A. Neukom, druggist: "Hang them."

Mrs. J. W. Beach, floral shop proprietor: "I haven't the slightest idea. Their guilt hasn't been established yet."

Edward Vardy, window dresser:

ORANGE COUNTY ROTARIANS ON WAY TO MEXICO

Tourist travel to Mexico this season is at least 100 per cent greater than any previous year, indicating a greatly increased interest in the southern republic, it was declared today by E. B. Sharp, passenger agent for the Southern Pacific Railroad company, who said he is finding it difficult to secure desired accommodations for Orange county people on their Mexican journeys.

Eight Orange county Rotary club members started their Mexican journey yesterday afternoon. Sharpley revealed, boarding the Southern California Rotary club special train of the Southern Pacific at Pomona at 2:10 yesterday afternoon.

Stanley Goode, president-elect of the Santa Ana club, and Lester J. Fountain, manager of the Broadway and West Coast theaters, will represent the local club at the International Rotary convention in Mexico City June 17-21, inclusive.

Arli McCormick, president-elect, and Al Greer, immediate past president of the Huntington Beach club, will represent that city, and four Orange Rotarians completed the local party, including the Rev. Robert Burns McAulay, president-elect, Bob Robinson, immediate past president, Carl Stuckey, secretary, and Ben Brock.

The Rotary special train travels to Mexico City via Nogales and along the west coast, with stops at Mazatlan and Guadalajara. The party is scheduled to arrive home early on the morning of June 25.

C. W. Harrison, new president of the Santa Ana Lions club, with Mrs. Harrison and Al Drumm, new president of the Orange Lions club, with Mrs. Drumm, have already made reservations to attend the International Lions club convention in Mexico city in July. Sharpley revealed today, with several additional reservations in prospect.

Departing for the Rotary club convention yesterday, President-Elect Stanley Goode took with him the Santa Ana club's globe-encircling gavel, which was taken around the world by William H. Spurgeon, Jr., and has been used at international conventions for the past several years.

"They ought to shoot them or hang them. If the country got rid of them as fast as they caught them there wouldn't be any more kidnaping."

Robert Effer, drug clerk: "The death penalty is too good for them."

BLUE BLADE WEEK BEING OBSERVED

Termed "the most complete sales drive the Gillette Company has ever launched in California," a comprehensive merchandising campaign will be launched June 10, when the Gillette Safety Razor company will inaugurate "Gillette Blue Blade Week—June 10 to 17."

Advertising exploitation for the campaign will be carried in the Santa Ana Register and 32 other newspapers in 30 cities of the state, with more than 3,000,000 newspaper ads carrying the Gillette message to every possible user of a safety razor.

Prizes will be given during the week to consumers of the product, and to dealers who arrange the most attractive window displays. The company also will sponsor the coast to coast broadcast of the Max Baer-Jim Braddock world's heavyweight championship fight, on June 13.

A Beetleware holder for new and used safety razor blades will be given away during the week to all purchasers of Gillette products, it was announced. The week of sales promotion will be under the direction of Sid Silon, Pacific Coast manager of Gillette.

Luncheon is Followed By Bridge Contest In Shady Garden

Following a pleasant custom which has been introduced several years ago, the Misses Alma Karlsson and Damaris Beaman brought together a group of friends from various Southland communities for luncheon and bridge Saturday, receiving their guests in the Doris Kathryn for 1 o'clock luncheon.

Table appointments occasioned much comment, for baskets grouped at intervals down the length of the single long table with its lace doilies, were filled with flowers in unusual variety of color and form. Place cards gave emphasis to the flower motif.

At the conclusion of the luncheon interval, the two hostesses led the way to their home, 2120 North Ross street, where bridge tables were in readiness in the shady garden. Each table commanded a view of the lovely flower garden to the rear of the grassy plot, and the hedge separating the two, formed a convenient place for other baskets of blossoms.

Miss Nell Housley of Fullerton, Miss Genevieve Humiston and Miss Louise Kaiser of this city, made the three special bridge scores, and were rewarded with pretty gifts wrapped and tied in flower colors.

Miss Karlsson and Miss Beaman included on their guest list, the Misses Kathleen Head, Hazel Gray, Veffie Miltstead, Emma Myers and Mabel Wonders, Long Beach; Mrs. H. T. Hayward, Culver City; Mrs. William Teltz, Gardena; Miss Nell Housley, Miss Mercy Clifford, Mrs. Otto Evans, Fullerton; Mrs. Beth Chapin, Manhattan Beach; Misses Hilda, Augusta and Florence Lindholm, Beverly Hills; Miss Frances Ernans, Los Angeles; the Misses Dorothy Decker, Genevieve Humiston, Lena Thomas, Louise Kaiser, Martha Whitson, Mesdames John A. Tessmann, Hazel Northcross and Emmett Elliott, Santa Ana.

Auxiliary Drill Team

Legion Auxiliary Drill team members are completing plans for a benefit dessert bridge party to be given Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in Veterans' hall, under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Fred Haiber.

A very nominal price, as being asked for the tickets, and drill team members hope for a good attendance to aid in securing funds for their necessary work. Mrs. I. A. Mercer and Mrs. Warren McCarty are on the general committee, with Mrs. Haiber, and other members are assisting in various ways. Mrs. McCarty will have charge of the dessert course to be served in advance of bridge play.

Reservations for the party may be made by telephoning Mrs. Haiber at 614 or Mrs. Mercer at 1111L.

Announcements

Second Household Economic section of Ebells society will be entertained tomorrow at 12:30 o'clock luncheon in the summer home at Coast Royal of Mrs. W. C. Watkins. Mrs. Roy H. Hall, Mrs. Harry Duckett, Miss Effie Douglas and Mrs. W. D. Ranney will be co-hostesses. Section members have been requested to provide their own needs in table service.

Amber Circle will meet Thursday at 12:30 p. m. luncheon in Masonic temple. Mrs. Mercy Mase Nelson will be chairman.

EBELL INSTALLATION OFFERS UNUSUAL PROGRAM FEATURES

"Yesterday is already a dream; tomorrow a vision; but today, well lived, may make yesterday a dream of happiness and tomorrow a vision of hope." With these words, Mrs. Charles V. Davis yesterday brought to a conclusion her two successful years' presidency of Santa Ana Ebells society, and relinquished the gavel to her successor in that important post, Mrs. Fred C. Rowland.

This ritualistic climax to a luncheon which he has created and named "Romance of Old California" in deference to John Steven McGroarty and others who see in it, all the romance and beauty of the Days of the Don.

The aura of romance remained as clubwomen sought the patio where Mrs. John N. Harding, chairman, and her courtesy committee had charge of serving refreshments. Mesdames Hugh Lowe, Harvey Gardner, Frank F. Mead and George Dunton were richly embroidered shawls as they poured tea at tables centered with bowls of snapdragons. Cakes and ices served with the tea, repeated the flower colors of the snapdragons.

Lieut. James Harding And Mrs. Harding Visiting Here

Arrival of Lieutenant James Gordon Harding and Mrs. Harding from Honolulu for a summer visit in the Southland, has brought a happy reunion in the James N. Harding home, 1427 Bush street, where the young people are spending some time before leaving on a round of trips and visits in the north.

Lieutenant Harding has been stationed at Scofield Barracks, Honolulu for the past three and a half years, following two years at Fort Lewis after his graduation from West Point in 1929. His marriage to Miss Fern Ogren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ogren of Dupont, near Tacoma, Wash., occurred just before he sailed for Honolulu.

Mrs. Harding drove to San Francisco last week to meet their son upon arrival Tuesday upon the U. S. transport, "Republic." Lieutenant Harding has an extended summer furlough but will report at Fort Sill in mid-August. In the meantime a series of trips and summer parties will be offered as entertainment, and Mr. and Mrs. Harding hope to persuade Mr. and Mrs. Ogren to come for a Southern California visit so that their entire family may be together here.

Among the attractions which his visit home has for Lieutenant Harding, is a new nephew, little James Allen Harding, who with his merry smile and his sunny red hair, is the center of the Bruce Harding home in Tustin. Mrs. Bruce Harding was Miss Lorna Allen, and small James Allen Harding was born in January of this year.

Church Societies

Class Luncheon

Officers will elect Friday when members of Orange Avenue Christian Young Married People's class held a monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. George McConnell, 1448 Maple street.

Mrs. Alpha Stary was named president; Mrs. Hazel Reed, secretary; Mrs. Grace Morgan, treasurer.

A covered-dish dinner was enjoyed by the group, composed of Mesdames Juanita Graham, Grace Morgan, Hazel McIntyre, Martha Gunn, Alpha Stary, Emma Reed, Ruby Arthur, Lucille Knight, Marion McClain, George McConnell and her mother, Mrs. House, with guests including Mrs. Irma Owen and Mrs. Robertson.

First Methodist

First Methodist Home Missionary society held its first meeting of a new church year last week in the church. Mrs. E. R. Lutes, retiring president, who conducted the meeting, and Mrs. J. C. Gardner, who is continuing in her duties as treasurer, each was presented with a gift. The two have served the society in the same office for the past six and seven years respectively.

The program opened with a vocal solo, "With a Wonderful Change Came Into Our Church When Christians Learned How to Tithes," sung by Mrs. B. Snow at the piano.

Material from various publications of the church was presented by Mrs. W. A. Taylor, Mrs. Maude Miller and others.

Bolsa

Bolsa P. T. A. gave an annual school picnic Thursday at Irvine park, with 75 students and other guests in attendance. Picnic luncheon was served at noon. Games were played.

Association members in charge of the event included Mesdames L. B. Bowers, table committee; Charles Patterson and Walter Donovan, coffee; W. W. Cadwallader, Charles Pierson and T. Broderick, food; Donnie Waters, Ben Faber, cleanup.

At the recent P. T. A. convention held in San Diego, Bolsa association was represented by the new president, Mrs. Walter Donovan; the retiring president, Mrs. Elton Marriott; and Mesdames Charles Patterson and W. W. Cadwallader.

Headress, varying with the different interpretations, was a factor and the impudent angle of sombrero, beret or scarf, said volumes. As a strolling flower vendor, he was audacious, ingratiating, haughty and servile, in lightning like changes. The "serenade" number (dance and pantomime alone) was imbued with romance; his Argentine tango was suavely exciting, and "El Gaucho" was one of the most dashing numbers imaginable in which horsemanship, romance and carnival gaiety seemed blended.

Probably the most beautiful dance was that of ancient Audal.

Contract Play Follows Buffet Supper Given In Revill Home

Through one of those whimsical gestures which the fate that presides over bridge play makes from time to time, all the prizes awarded for contract scores Saturday night when Mr. and Mrs. Alan A. Revill entertained in their home, 2215 North Ross street, went to feminine guests.

Fortunately the hostess had selected table prizes that would be appropriate for anyone, and those whose high scores at individual tables merited these rewards were Mrs. William H. Spurgeon, Mrs. Loyal K. King, Mrs. Thomas H. Glenn and Mrs. Paul Young.

In advance of the bridge play, Mr. and Mrs. Revill had presided at a buffet supper for which home and tables alike were brilliantly varnished with flowers. Mrs. Wellington had sent gladioluses, which graced the dining table, and Mrs. King had sent equally lovely gladioluses and roses to be used throughout the rooms.

Covers were placed for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Revill, Mr. and Mrs. M. Burr Wellington, Mr. and Mrs. Loyal K. King, Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Spurgeon, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Young of Los Angeles, Mrs. David J. Howell of Washington, D. C. and Mrs. Elsie Wingood Daly.

The party was one of several delightfully intimate affairs planned to precede the approaching departure of Mr. and Mrs. Revill for a summer in England.

Chicago Club Meets In Walker Home

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walker were hosts Sunday afternoon to members and a few friends of the Chicago club. Mrs. Walker used many flowers, including pink and white carnations in a decorative plan that called forth much admiration.

The Chicago club is composed, as its name indicates, of former residents of the Windy City now living in California. It was organized nine years ago for the purpose of caring for sick and needy colored folk and to help in any way to ease suffering humanity.

Members have been congratulated upon the good they have accomplished.

There was a 30-minute interval devoted to business plans after which the thirty or more members and guests present enjoyed a musical program furnished by Miss Anna Mae Burks, pianist.

Evening Wedding Rites Occur In "Wee Kirk," Glendale

An evening wedding which found its setting Thursday at 8 o'clock in the Wee Kirk of the Heather, Glendale, was an event of much charm when Miss Ellen Dick of Los Angeles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph A. Dick of Balseker, Alberta, Can., became the bride of Ralph Waddell of Los Angeles, son of P. E. Waddell of Wisconsin, and Mrs. Charles H. Hackett, of Santa Ana.

Mrs. Harlyn Abel was at the organ for the bridal music, and the services were read by Dr. Percy T. Magan, president of the College of Medical Evangelists of which Mr. Waddell is a graduate.

Miss Dick was in white satin, the close fitting princess lines of which fell in a long sweeping train. Her tulle veil was caught cap-wise to her hair with orange blossoms and she carried an arm cluster of gardenias with a shower of white sweet peas.

Miss Freda L. Dick was her sister's maid of honor, wearing pink net over taffeta and carrying pink sweet peas with sprays of delphinium. She wore a rhinestone tiara in lieu of a hat. Miss Lillian Dollinger in turquoise blue net over taffeta and Miss Rosalie Gilbert in a similar frock of daffodil yellow, were bridesmaids and carried yellow roses and sweet peas.

Dr. Otto Arndal assisted Mr. Waddell as best man and Dr. Ray Foster and Dr. Dudley Cobb ushered.

A hundred guests attended the wedding and later were received in the Glenn Calkins home, Los Angeles home decked for the occasion, Mr. and Mrs. Waddell left for San Diego and after seeing the exposition and visiting other Southern points will make their home in Portland, Ore. Mrs. Waddell is a graduate of White Memorial School of Nursing, Los Angeles.

Local Couple Weds At Yuma, Arizona

Word has been received that Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Nielsen of this city are on their honeymoon trip, with plans to establish their home in Santa Ana in the near future.

The marriage of Anna B. Aiken and Mr. Nielsen took place during the past weekend in Yuma, Ariz., according to reports received here. In two weeks' time, Mr. Nielsen expects to resume his work as a mechanic in the city garage.

Mrs. D. M. Jellis, 1209 West Highland street, president of American Legion auxiliary, is reported improved in health, having been confined to her home with illness for the past ten days.

Miss Eleanor Crill, daughter of John W. Crill of Palm street, Garden Grove, is sailing Friday with Mrs. Carl Nichols of Garden Grove, on the "Lurline" for a summer visit in Honolulu. Miss Crill just received her B. A. degree in sociology from Whittier college, and plans to enter University of Southern California in the autumn, to work for her Master's degree in social welfare.

Mrs. Joel Ogden and Mrs. Horace Leeching, this city, and Mrs. Glenn Mathis, Orange, spent yesterday in Los Angeles.

Mrs. F. D. Hawkison, 412 West Second street, entertained as guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hawkison of Upland.

Miss Edith Cornell, of the music and drama department of Julia Lathrop Junior High school, has plans perfected for departure Saturday by automobile for Seattle. There she will board the S. S. Prince Robert for the Alaskan tour, and upon return to Glacier National park and other scenic points before returning to Santa Ana.

W. W. Rittner is recuperating at his home, 320 West Washington avenue, from the effects of a tonsillectomy performed a few weeks ago at the Veterans' hospital, Sawtelle. He went to the hospital with the expectation of submitting to an operation for the removal from his spine of a piece of shrapnel, grim souvenir of the World War. But development of tonsillitis made an immediate operation necessary and it was found expedient to postpone the other surgical work until a later date.

Mrs. M. Burr Wellington of Lem-on Heights, and Mr. and Mrs. Loyal K. King of Panorama Heights, were in Claremont Sunday as noon dinner guests of Miss Marjorie Crouch, registrar at Scripps College. Miss Crouch entertained quite a group of faculty members and their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wones, 820 Riverside avenue, left last night by automobile for a visit in Portland. They will be gone two weeks.

Mrs. Wones' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hill of Houck, Ariz., and their friend, Samuel Wilcox, yesterday completed a week's visit here and left for Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Steiner and small son Carl have arrived from their home in Kerman for a visit with Mrs. Steiner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. William Taylor, 418 West Santa Clara avenue. They will see the San Diego exposition and expect to spend part of next week with Mr. and Mrs. J. William Taylor Jr. in Avalon, Catalina Island, Mrs. Steiner was Miss Laura Taylor.

Miss Mary Colgan Nalle, Leonard Morris and Hilton Morton were among Santa Anans receiving their degrees from Redlands university last night at commencement exercises. Among Santa Anans who went to Redlands Sunday for baccalaureate or to graduation last night were Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Nalle, Miss Jane Nalle, Crawford Nalle, Miss Florence Brownridge, Mrs. Jennie Crawford, Mrs. Eva Halliday, Mrs. Colleen Clark, Mrs. Earl Morris, Mrs. Robert Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Mac O. Robbins, Miss Janet Martin, Miss Margaret Fine, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Owings, Mrs. Arthur Lyon, Mr. and Mrs. Rollo Hays. The Santa Ana graduates were members of the largest class which the college has graduated. This year's class gift to the university was a granite bench for the campus. Miss Nalle will teach in Santa Ana schools next year.

Two-table Bridge Club
Has Evening Meeting

Members of a two-table bridge club held their monthly meeting recently as guests in the home of Mrs. Russell Johnson, North Lyon street.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Frank Bigelow and Mrs. Stanley Palmer, who scored first and second high. Refreshments were served.

Present were Mesdames Russell Johnson, Ralph Cole, John Wool-lomies, John Criddle, James Mer-gold, Elwynne Wilcox, Wayne Nel-son, Stanley Palmer, Frank Bige-low.

Members made plans to enter-tain husbands at a dinner party July 14.

utes longer and fold in the re-maining ingredients, prepared as above.

Pour the mixture into one large or small individual molds and chill until set (3 hours). Dip in and out of hot water to unmold. Serve on crisp lettuce with a little bit of tart lemon mayonnaise.

The quantity given will make eight salads. Each salad with its tablespoonful of salad dressing, has a calory value of 410. Since so much rich foods go to the making of this salad, it comes under the high energy classification . . . be sure you can take care of the energy units or they'll park on you as mayhem curves, plus!

Wednesday: Jellied Meat Ring with a salad filling. Various sand-wich fillings.

ANN MEREDITH'S
MIXING
BOWLEAT AND GROW SLIM
Luncheon

Salad plate:

1 stuffed egg

8 stalks fresh asparagus

1 medium sized tomato

Lettuce

Diet salad dressing

2 Ry-crisp crackers, unbuttered

Pot of tea with lemon and sac-charin.

Calory total...225

The stuffed egg for the diet

salad must be blended with diet mayonnaise and a little prepared mustard, otherwise the fat calories would run up in a big way. This is a good salad for the family, but with the ry-crisp serve bread and butter or rolls, choice of drinks, and some simple dessert, or, make it just jam with bread and butter.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Prune Nut Bread

2½ cups all-purpose flour, sifted with

4 level teaspoons baking powder

¼ tsp soda dissolved in

1 cup sour milk

1 tsp salt

1 tsp cinnamon

¼ cup sugar

1 egg well beaten

1 tsp oil

¼ cup powdered chocolate

½ cup chopped walnuts

1 large cup stoned, chopped, cooked prunes.

Dissolve soda with sour milk;

sift all dry ingredients into a mixing bowl, add egg to sour milk and beat into the flour. Fold in chopped nuts and prunes, add melted shortening, pack the dough into two oiled bread tins (small size) and bake one hour in a 350 degree oven.

This bread toasts well when two days old, and makes grand sandwiches.

Do you serve frozen strawberries

when the season is in full tide?

If not, you should, for this is the most delicious of all strawberry desserts.

It's so simple to make: hull and wash two or three baskets of very ripe berries, add the juice of a lemon and enough sugar to make them pleasantly sweet. Mash well, and let the pulp freeze to a thick frappe stage. Serve in sherbet glasses with a spoonful of whipped cream or a little vanilla topping.

Jellied Chicken Salad

1 box gelatine aspic base

2 cups chicken broth

1 tablespoon lemon juice

1-2 cup mayonnaise

1-2 cup whipped coffee cream

1 small bottle stuffed olives, sliced

2-3 cup finely sliced celery

1-2 cup sliced blanched almonds

1 teaspoon chopped parsley

Salt and pepper to taste

11-2 cold cooked chicken, diced.

Scald one cup of broth to dissolve the aspic mixture, cool it and add the other cup. When this jelly reaches the jellifying stage, fold in the whipped cream and mayonnaise with the lemon juice, salt and pepper. Let stand a few minutes.

"PERK UP" WITH PURSANG

Marvelous new tonic for
"run-down" people

Overwork, illness, wrong food, lack of exercise—all collect their toll. Now's the time to get back to normal.

Are you feeling blue, discouraged, and "run down" these days? Why? Because indoor living, worry, overwork have all conspired to wear down your resistance—and impoverish your blood!

Weak, thin blood can make a man or woman imagine almost everything is wrong when really the condition is not serious.

If you are "below par," just start taking Pursang. See how much better you feel in two or three days. Wait a week or more and you will hardly believe that you are the same person—you will feel so good!

Get a bottle of Pursang today. Take no other. Pursang is not to be confused with cheap tonics with only a temporary effect. Pursang is a real tonic, scientifically produced specifically for anemic condition of the blood. For anemic children and tired adults, it has simply done wonders.

POPULAR AIRS KEEP SMILING ON COLLEGE OF PROGRAM TO BE BEAUTY HOUR HEARD TONIGHT

"Lovely to Look At," "I'm a Hundred Percent for You," "Living on Velvet" and "The World Is Mine" are the appropriate tunes to be heard on the Chicago College of Beauty program on KREG to-night at 6:45.

The presentation will offer inter-esting information for girl grad-uates who are not to become June brides this year, and will be of-fered by the Santa Ana branch of the Chicago College of Beauty of which Erma Brown McClelland is owner and manager.

The local school also sponsors the daily except Sunday all re-quest program on KREG from 4 to 4:30, giving away a prize with each broadcast. The incentive of the prize has increased the usually large number of requests received during the half-hour to a number that is impossible to handle each day. Those who find the line line "busy" are requested to keep trying. The prize will not be awarded to the same person with-in 60 days, it was stated.

KHJ at 9:30 tonight.

WEDNESDAY

President Roosevelt's address to the graduates of the United States Military Academy and other fea-tures of the commencement exer-cises will be heard over KFI Wed-nesday at 6:15 a. m. and the sec-ond at 7:15 a. m.

Newton D. Baker, ex-secretary of war and internationally hono-ored as a humanitarian, will address the KHJ audience at 4:15 p. m. Wednesday on the question, "How Can We Stay Out of War?" His talk will be the last of a series of discussions by prominent men under auspices of the World Peace Foundation, of which Baker is a trustee.

The "Romance Under the Water" broadcasts are made from KREG each Wednesday at the same hour.

Refutation of the theory that germs are the one and only cause of any disease will be made by Dr. James Workman who will quote recognized authorities upon the subject during tonight's "Keep Smiling" program to be broadcast from KREG beginning at 6 o'clock.

The germ theory of disease has been a matter of much discussion, pro and con, since its conception by German scientists," Dr. Work-man said. "Although chiropractors have not led the way, they have been alone in rendering the Scotch verdict of 'not proven' in answer-ing this question of 'Are germs the cause of disease?' This propo-sition does not admit of positive demonstrative proof; but to the contrary there is an abundance of substantial evidence in favor of our own theory that the germ in fact is not the cause but a result of disease," Dr. Workman de-clared.

The "Keep Smiling" programs, comprising lectures by Dr. Work-man and presentations of light classics, are broadcast from KREG each Tuesday at the same hour.

Tomorrow's broadcast of "Ro-mance Under the Water," prepared by United States Commissioner of Fisheries Frank T. Bell, from KREG at 11 a. m. will comprise an interesting and humorous ac-count of a fishing trip in the state of Maine last week.

The fishing party on which I was a guest of the Honorable Louis J. Brann, Governor of Maine, included the governors of the New England states; Rudy Vallee, Maine's favorite son, Jesse Jones and other notables and in-augurated a program to tell the world about the beauties of the Pine Tree State," Commissioner Bell stated.

Refutation of the theory that germs are the one and only cause of any disease will be made by Dr. James Workman who will quote recognized authorities upon the subject during tonight's "Keep Smiling" program to be broadcast from KREG beginning at 6 o'clock.

The germ theory of disease has been a matter of much discussion, pro and con, since its conception by German scientists," Dr. Work-man said. "Although chiropractors have not led the way, they have been alone in rendering the Scotch verdict of 'not proven' in answer-ing this question of 'Are germs the cause of disease?' This propo-sition does not admit of positive demonstrative proof; but to the contrary there is an abundance of substantial evidence in favor of our own theory that the germ in fact is not the cause but a result of disease," Dr. Workman de-clared.

The "Keep Smiling" programs, comprising lectures by Dr. Work-man and presentations of light classics, are broadcast from KREG each Tuesday at the same hour.

Tomorrow's broadcast of "Ro-mance Under the Water," prepared by United States Commissioner of Fisheries Frank T. Bell, from KREG at 11 a. m. will comprise an interesting and humorous ac-count of a fishing trip in the state of Maine last week.

THE TINYMIES

Wee Scouty climbed up on a limb, and little Duncy said to him, "Till have to get atop the keg to swing the mallet right."

"Be careful, now, that you don't fall down to the ground and spill it all. If we're to get some root beer, we must work this thing just right."

"Come on, you gnomes, give me a boost. I must admit I am not used to climbing such big barrels. Why, it's higher than my head."

"Gee, when I finally am on top, I hope I do not take a flop. If I thought that would happen, I would stay down here, instead."

"Aw, quit your talking. Get to work! You always find some way to shirk," said Copy. Then the gnomes got busy. Up wee Duncy went.

He braced himself and said, "Here goes! I'm glad to work, now, goodness knows. To get myself a lot of fine root beer is my intent."

He swung the mallet through the air and Scouty loudly cried, "Take care! You almost missed the stick I'm holding. That will never do."

"Don't worry," Duncy answered, "I will hit it right in my next try. Just hold the stick real steady. That is all you have to do."

His next few swings were perfect hits, and Duncy loudly shouted, "It's about time that you knocked that bung into the barrel, lad. We have enough acorns, I think, and from the tops we'll have a drink. Oh, gee but it has been a long time since root beer I've had."

Just then the bung was knocked right through. The next thing that the Tinies knew, the foam of root beer gushed out. What a funny sight to see.

It caught we Duncy by surprise and, right before the Tinies' eyes, he toppled from the key top loudly shouting, "Woe is me!"

(The Tinies quench their thirst in the next story.)

MEMORIAL to A TRAGIC CAMPAIGN

NEWS that Turkey is re-fortifying the Dardanelles comes with the 20th anniversary of perhaps the most tragic failure in military tactics of the whole World War. This was the Gallipoli campaign of 1915, when the Allies sought to break through the Dardanelles and bring relief to Russia. Prominent in this tragedy were the 30,000 Aussies, composing the "Australia-New Zealand Army Corps," who were the backbone of the campaign, after having sailed some 7,000 miles to reach the scene.

Commemorating their sacrifice at Gallipoli, Australia has issued the stamp shown here, in two values.

It shows a memorial wreath encircling the cenotaph erected in London as a tribute to the men who died at Gallipoli.

Beach City Council Bans All Amusement Games

SERA AID ON ROAD WORK TO BE REQUESTED

NEWPORT BEACH, June 11.—City ordinance No. 435 was unanimously adopted at the meeting of the city council here tonight. The ordinance prohibits, after January 1, 1936, any and all amusement games. Specifically listing tango and the flasher games, the new law also bans marble, dice and card games as well as all vending machines. Councilman Irvin George Gordon sponsored the ordinance.

Under the new set-up the amusement games will be licensed for a period of six months with the beginning of the new city year July 1. The ordinance carries a penalty of a $300 fine or three months in jail or both for violation. It goes into effect in 30 days.

Owners of more than half of the property in the amusement zone are preparing to ask the local board of equalization for a reassessment of their property. At the present time this property has a higher assessed value than any other portion of the city.

Ralph B. Maskey appeared at the meeting and asked concerning the reconstruction of Seashore drive, which was washed out during the ground swell period last year. City Engineer Patterson informed the council that application for the work was ready to be submitted to the SERA, but that it had not been sent in as it was expected it would be possible later to get an allocation for materials as well as labor from the SERA. If the request was sent in now, the city would have to provide the materials for the work, which would amount to about $3000. The application would be submitted in approximately two weeks, according to Patterson.

In an effort to provide for widening of the highway through Corona Del Mar in the future, a communication was read from state Highway Engineer S. V. Cortelyou, requesting the city to pass a setback ordinance providing for property owners along the highway to move their homes back from the street.

It was explained that in places the highway through Corona Del Mar is not 100 feet wide, which is the desired width and that at the time the highway was put through the city was allowed to build sidewalks on the highway line. No widening of the strip is planned in the very near future, it was explained. The matter was referred for report to the planning commission.

PROTESTS OF CITIZENS FAIL TO MOVE H.B. SCHOOL BOARD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 11.—A group of 15 citizens attended the meeting of the elementary school board at the school last night to protest for the second time the dismissal by the board of C. B. Baldwin, school superintendent. The friends of Mr. Baldwin urged the trustees to rescind their action and retain Superintendent Baldwin for at least another year.

President W. J. Bristol, L. H. Binningsdorf and Dr. L. E. Whitaker, members of the board, said that the suspension was a closed incident and declined to discuss it although the friends of Baldwin were allowed to address the board.

Speakers for Baldwin asked for a reason for his suspension and asked the board to state wherein Baldwin had failed in his duties as superintendent. The school board members declined to give their reasons, although they stated they would give Baldwin a recommendation at the close of his present term.

The board then asked if a petition of 700 names was presented requesting the retention of Baldwin would the board rescind its action. President Bristol stated that the matter would not be reconsidered regardless of how many voters might petition the board.

Mrs. W. J. Ebert, Kim Holmsom, John Whitfield and Myron Eaton were the chief speakers for Baldwin.

The members of the school board said their action in regard to the superintendent had been the final and they declined to discuss reconsideration or make reply to the talks of those who spoke in favor of reinstatement for Superintendent Baldwin.

EL TORO, TRABUCA GROUP IN PROGRAM

EL TORO, June 11.—Students of the El Toro and Trabuca schools presented an interesting program at the hall recently. The primary grades, in charge of Miss Vivienne Wyne, presented Dutch songs, poems and a short play in costume. The Trabuca group, taught by Richard Harris, gave a playlet. The elementary grades, directed by Mrs. Lola Stanley, staged a minstrel show, featuring three types of Negro songs.

Xylophone and piano solos by Miss Dorothy Ramsay, of Santa Ana, were enjoyed.

Mrs. Stanley presented the eighth grade students, Peter Chongala, John Etcheberria, Charles Clary, Catherine Ustariz and Joseph Osterman, for graduation. Arthur Corey, assistant county superintendent, addressed the group on "Character Building."

R. H. Prothero, clerk of the board of trustees presented diplomas to the graduates, and penmanship certificates to a number of the other students. Charles Clary, on behalf of the upper grades, presented a gift to Mrs. Stanley, who is leaving the district this year.

Fifty pupils and parents went to Irvine park recently for a picnic. Those furnishing transportation were Mrs. H. F. Bennett, Mrs. Bessie Oeteman, Mrs. Lola Stanley, Miss Vivienne Wyne, Mrs. R. H. Prothero, Arthur Hausauer, Lois Robinson and Richard Harris and Mrs. F. M. Nelson.

TUSTIN VACATION SCHOOL IS OPENED

TUSTIN, June 11.—A daily vacation church school started Monday at the First Presbyterian church and will continue for three weeks, according to announcement made by the pastor, the Rev. Calvin A. Duncan.

All young boys and girls of school age up to and including the eighth grade children, are eligible for the classes, being held from 9 to 11 a. m. each day. The courses include Bible drills, Bible stories, memory work and making Bible scrap books.

Teachers include B. F. Beswick, Mrs. A. E. Ashcraft, Mrs. Belle Bardswell, Mrs. Frank McInteer, Mrs. Charles Marshall and the Rev. and Mrs. Calvin A. Duncan.

At the close of the school, a picnic will be given for all who attended. Certificates and awards will be presented all those who complete the work and for perfect attendance.

500 AT RACED BOND PROJECT TO PROGRAM OF OUTLINED BY BEACH SCHOOL HEAD

NEWPORT HEIGHTS, June 11.—Five hundred persons, representing the entire harbor district, were in attendance at the graduating services of the class from the Newport Harbor Union High school Sunday night. The program was held in the main auditorium of the school with the Rev. W. I. Lowe, pastor of the Costa Mesa Community church, giving the main address. He spoke on the theme, "The Perfect Temple of Wisdom."

The evening's program opened with a selection, "Pomp and Circumstance," by the school orchestra, directed by Miss Maria Hiesch, music instructor. The audience then sang, "Holy, Holy, Holy," and the Rev. Russell C. Stroup, minister of Christ Church By the Sea, gave the invocation, followed by a number by the Boys and Girls' clubs and the orchestra, "Unfold ye Portals," from "The Redemption," Gounod. Fred Briggs, reader in the Christian Science church, gave the scripture reading. The Rev. Mr. Stroup pronounced the benediction.

Graduating exercises will be held Wednesday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. Principal Sidney H. Davidson will present the class and Joseph A. Beek, member of the board of trustees, will present the diplomas. The Rev. W. I. Lowe will pronounce the benediction.

DANCE PUPILS GIVE RECITAL IN LA HABRA

LA HABRA, June 11.—Miss Adeline Stemple, teacher of dancing in La Habra presented her class of children in a recital Monday evening at the Washington grammar school auditorium. Earl Pullian, of Whittier, presented his children's orchestra in numbers.

The stage was decorated to represent a garden and the program opened with P. H. Goodell and Miss Ethel Linsdell singing "An Old Fashioned Garden." The dance program was as follows: "Coming Through the Rye," Gwendolyn Alstrom and Frank Newman, assisted by Beverly Prida, Barbara Rimpau, Frances Plou and Wanda Lee Burdick. "Over Somebody Else's Shoulder," Beverly Jamison, assisted by Colleen Prida, June Upton, Betty Jo Wardrip, Evelyn Sutton, Kitty Kuhn, Wanda Calvert, Everetta Church, Lois Smith, Joan Berry, Dolores Lindauer and Janet Whittemore; Gypsy dance, Ruth Herron, of Anaheim.

She was at the instrument in the upper hall of the Parker house. Zoe was not 10 feet away. Gerda, for the moment, was with Zoe. Katharine had explained that Miss Zoe had a splitting headache. She wanted to call Dr. Kaye, but Zoe had protested.

John said yes, there was bridge, but he could manage it.

"Gracia—Mrs. Mollivane—just try," he said. "She'll take my hand."

In spite of her relief, in spite of her fear for Zoe, Katharine could not refrain from making a grimace. Of course, Gracia would be over! As soon as she knew John Kaye was in Lincoln, Gracia had put on her prettiest frock, made up her plump face as seductively as she knew how and very casually "happened in" to the Strykhursts. Just like Gracia. And, if she could manage it, she would break her engagement to the nice army officer and marry John Kaye herself.

"She's years older than he is," Katharine said rather angrily. She went back to Zoe's room. Zoe had refused to permit herself to be undressed. She was lying on the bed, her evening sandals, stained with mud and dew, dragging the pretty coverlet awry. Her face was lead color. Her blue eyes, open wide, had a sort of dead look in them.

Gerda asked if there was anything else she wanted. At a negative shake of the head, the maid went away. Katharine sat down beside the girl.

"Zoe, won't you talk about it? It would help, maybe."

Zoe twisted her small body about so that her face was again burrowed into the pillow.

LAGUNA BEACH, June 11.—Reasons for submitting a new $85,000 school bond issue to the voters, to be approved or rejected by them on June 28, are set forth in a statement released today by School Superintendent Linton T. Simmons.

At the present time the total assessed valuation of the school district is $3,853,100, which is expected to reach the $5,000,000 mark before the assessment rolls are made out for 1936, it is pointed out. Because of this increase in taxable wealth, it is believed that the present tax rate of $1.51, even with the inclusion of the proposed bond issue, would be lowered instead of raised, the statement explains.

$40,000 for Gym

Out of the total amount of the proposed bond issue, $40,000 would be used for a much needed gymnasium, $28,500 for completion of the Park avenue school plant, to be converted into a junior and senior high school, and $16,500 for additional rooms on the new elementary school, now in course of construction, to take care of an anticipated heavy enrollment in grammar grades. In addition to the grammar school, the building program calls for an additional tennis court.

The present Park avenue school building will house the new junior-senior high school, consisting of all grades from 7 to 12 inclusive. It is estimated that close to 300 students will be enrolled in this division at the opening of school next September. The new elementary school structure will house the grammar school consisting of the first six grades.

Touching upon the pressing need of a gymnasium, Superintendent Simmons states that at the present time but two high schools in Orange county, Laguna Beach and Valencia, lack a gymnasium. Other high schools in the county, engaged in inter-scholastic sports and games, are unwilling to play on the home grounds of schools having no gymnasium, he stated. The result has been, the statement explains, that Laguna has been forced to rent the Capistrano gymnasium and hold all practices as well as games there. Such an arrangement represents a definite loss to the school, the students and the community, he declared.

SCHOOL BOARD DECLINES TO CONSIDER PUPILS' PETITION

PLACENTIA, June 11.—Members of the board of education of Placentia yesterday afternoon refused to consider a petition of 32 eighth grade graduates urging them to reconsider a former action requiring all eighth grade students to attend Valencia High school and refusing to pay either tuition or transportation to another school.

In discussing the issue, Warren Bradford, president of the board, said it is impossible for the board to consider petitions in these issues. Mrs. Hermine Lowe spoke briefly yesterday, maintaining that students will come to Valencia sooner if the school is built to a point that they desire to come than through forced attendance, and made a motion for reconsideration of action of the board. The motion was lost for lack of a second.

Mrs. E. Swoffer appeared on behalf of the students. She was assured by John Crossley, principal of the High school, that freshmen may have instruction in all subjects they can get in Fullerton High school, with some additional subjects. He said nine full time and two part time teachers will be employed and that he has every assurance the school will be accredited when the state board meets this month. According to Crossley, Dr. Ernest Pascall indicated the school will be accredited when examining the teachers this winter. He said the students being graduated this year will be recommended for college.

Comment on the first unit of the high school will be poured this Friday and the board will meet Saturday at 10 a. m. to open bids on the materials for the shop and gymnasium buildings. Fifty men are at work on the buildings.

It is anticipated plans for the new grammar school to be built to replace the one that burned last fall will be completed in 10 days.

Seal Beach Aid Names Officers

SEAL BEACH, June 11.—The annual election of officers for the Woman's Aid of the Community Methodist church was held recently. Mrs. Marie Ward being elected president; Mrs. W. H. Snider, first vice-president; Mrs. James Snell, second vice-president; Mrs. Frank Haskell, secretary; Mrs. Lee Howard, treasurer.

A trip to the Vienna Clinic in Long Beach was announced for June 19. Also announced was the making of the Federated Aid meeting to be held in Redondo Beach June 14.

Reports of the year's work were given by the secretary and treasurer.

Hostesses for next year's meetings will be chosen according to the birth month of the members. The July meeting will be held in Rixby park in Long Beach, being an all day picnic, July 11.

room elementary school now under construction, the statement was on to say that all of the elementary grades—first through eighth—rolled in 1935, and with an expected increase of 10 to 20 per cent, the classes will be too large and should be divided.

In addition to the present building program the schools need a cafeteria which would be constructed out of the regular budget allowance over a period of three years, providing the bond issue is passed to take care of the present building program, he said.

Summer Sweethearts

By Mabel McElliot © 1935, NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

KATHARINE STRYKHURST, beautiful, 20, becomes acquainted with MICHAEL HEATHERCOE, riding teacher, and acknowledges an avowed love for him. She is worried over the progress of an affair between ZOE PARKER, her best friend, and GIBBS LARKIN, of whom Zoe's parents disapprove.

Katharine and DR. JOHN KAYE, a friend of the Strykhurst family, take Zoe to a night club where she sees Gibbs with a notorious woman. Zoe threatens to tell her mother.

That same night Michael is inveigled into taking SALLY MOON, local coquette, to the same place. Sally, arriving home late, informs her father that she and Michael are engaged.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVII

Katharine said very softly into the telephone, "John, I wish you'd come over—if you can get away, that is. Is there bridge or something?"

She was at the instrument in the upper hall of the Parker house. Zoe was not 10 feet away. Gerda, for the moment, was with Zoe. Katharine had explained that Miss Zoe had a splitting headache. She wanted to call Dr. Kaye, but Zoe had protested.

John said yes, there was bridge, but he could manage it.

"Gracia—Mrs. Mollivane—just try," he said. "She'll take my hand."

In spite of her relief, in spite of her fear for Zoe, Katharine could not refrain from making a grimace. Of course, Gracia would be over! As soon as she knew John Kaye was in Lincoln, Gracia had put on her prettiest frock, made up her plump face as seductively as she knew how and very casually "happened in" to the Strykhursts. Just like Gracia. And, if she could manage it, she would break her engagement to the nice army officer and marry John Kaye herself.

"She's years older than he is," Katharine said rather angrily. She went back to Zoe's room. Zoe had refused to permit herself to be undressed. She was lying on the bed, her evening sandals, stained with mud and dew, dragging the pretty coverlet awry. Her face was lead color. Her blue eyes, open wide, had a sort of dead look in them.

Gerda asked if there was anything else she wanted. At a negative shake of the head, the maid went away. Katharine sat down beside the girl.

"Go away, why don't you? Leave me alone. Oh, I'm dying—that's what it is. This awful feeling. I can't stand it!" Suddenly she sat up with one violent movement, clutching her head in her hands.

"I was going to marry him—do you hear? I didn't believe what people said, didn't care what he'd been in the past. But now I've seen him with that—that devil. Now I know how he feels. Why, he never wanted me for a minute. I was a fool. He was laughing at me—laughing all the time."

Katharine did not try to stem the tide of the girl's suffering. It was dreadful to look upon—the rawness and newness of the wound she had received.

"That's why I want to die, Kay. You've got to help me. I can't—I couldn't live after this. Couldn't face it. The way he's been laughing at me. And that woman, too. Did you see her look at me, as if she was amused?"

At the recollection Zoe groaned again.

Katharine said, very gently, "You made a mistake, dear. That was all. We all do that. And you're only 20. Dr. you suppose there's a single person of 40 to-day who can't look back on an early mistake?"

"I'm through," Zoe said with finality. "Life—it's done for me, Kay. You don't know—ah, you don't know. What wouldn't I give to be like you! Nothing seems to hurt you."

Katharine said nothing to this. There was nothing one could say. Zoe was like a deaf woman, a blind woman. She was aware of nothing but her own raw wound. There were steps on the stairs and Katharine, distracted by the responsibility of her charge, was relieved to see Dr. Kaye at the door.

"Johnny, can't you give her something to make her sleep?" Zoe overheard. She rose, swaying giddily.

"Dr. Kaye, you can't do anything for me. Katharine should not have bothered you. I'm sorry. Just go away and leave me alone."

There was a kind of desperate dignity about the small figure.

"Zoe, dear, your mother and father will be home soon. They won't know what's happened. Do you want to frighten them?" Katharine asked her gently.

John Kaye had his finger on her pulse now; his quiet eyes were examining her.

"I have something in my kit," he said. "It's right there on the chair, Katharine."

The tall, slender girl in white, with the fair hair brushed like a golden cascade on her head, found the leather case and gave it to him in one quiet movement. John Kaye smiled at her; she was so cool and sure of herself, so aloof, apparently from earthly troubles.

Katharine recognized the quality of his smile and answered it in kind. John was good! Whenever he was around you felt safe.

"This will do the trick. Two of these now. You'll sleep like a log."

"All right," Zoe said docilely. "I want to bathe my face, I think. Back in a minute."

Katharine and Dr. Kaye waited as she disappeared into the glittering tiled bathroom. They could hear the rushing of water. Then a thud.

John Kaye rushed for the door. It was locked.

"The balcony!" gasped Katharine. "You can get in through the bathroom window."

The doctor hooked his leg over the sill. He was out of sight. Katharine waited, her heart thudding painfully. Zoe—how awful! What would they find?

The key grated in the lock. Dr. Kaye stood in the doorway, Zoe's limp in his arms. A strangely limp Zoe, her face stained by a brownish liquid.

"White of egg, quickly," grated the doctor. Katharine never knew how they got through the confusion that followed. Bells ringing—people hurrying to and fro through the corridors. Mrs. Parker was there, her face strained and white. And there was a nurse with dark hair under a flyaway cap.

"However did it happen?" wailed Zoe's mother couldn't have borne thing nervous and rather barbed about Zoe's desperate headache—John Kaye's prescription.

DINNER PARTY IS ENJOYED BY SCHOOL GROUP

GARDEN GROVE, June 11.—With the gymnastium of the high school turned into a beautiful garden setting, the juniors entertained the seniors at their annual banquet recently. Garden swings, fences and gateways around the edge of the floor carried out the theme. For the table decorations nut cups in the form of bird houses in pastel shades and garden gates with hollyhocks in the back were the programs at each place. At the speaker's table a garden scene was the centerpiece, which flowers and tall tapers in pastel shades were used for the other tables.

The following members of the Golden Fleece and Argo Knights organizations waited on tables: Marjorie Brown, Barbara Dales, Ruth Endo, Ruth Lehnhardt, Helen Meyers, Ruth Leslie Mitchell, Marjorie Allen, Twila Hunt, Irene Donahue, Avis Long, Dorothy Graves, Evelyn Lamb, Vera Rae Long, Eleanor Luz, Margaret Schauer, Fae Sutton, Betty Wentz, Betty Allum and Joyce Arkley. They all wore green aprons in the shape of clover leaves. The check girls were Ellen Jordan and Dorothy Swenson.

Walter Ziegler, president of the junior class, gave the address of welcome and the response was made by Robert Wentz. A vocal solo was given by Cleo Smith; Lillian Crane spoke on "Garden Pests." A "Gardener's Technique" was the subject discussed by Violet McClain. Don Griest and Bruce Mayhew played a trumpet duet. Jean Thurston spoke on "Daffy Dills." Principal L. L. Dolg spoke on "Memory's Garden."

After dinner the remainder of the evening was spent dancing to music furnished by Mrs. Nye Martin's orchestra.

Those in charge of the affair were Dorothy Smith, general chairman; Helen Harper, gym decorations; Ethel Chaffey, lobby decorations and check room; Lillian Crane and Frances Merchant, table decorations; head table, Margaret Watts; Dorothy Beardsley, menu; Fontella Hudson, waitresses.

to know what her child had done through that summer night. Life was sometimes too black and pitted with terror. . . .

All through the night they fought for Zoe's life. Katharine went through the halls softly; once she met John in the doorway and she smiled at her wearily, gently.

"John, is she—are you going to be able to—?"

"Don't ask me now. I don't know." He looked desperately tired. "You'd better lie down and get some rest yourself."

"Oh, I'm all right. I simply couldn't go home. I wouldn't be able to sleep anyhow."

She went down again to the library where Mrs. Parker, propped with pillows and sustained by her husband, was waiting.

The woman's haggard eyes sought her face. "Katharine, if Zoe dies, I'll—"

"Don't talk that way, Mama," Henry Parker patted his wife's hand. "She can't die. We won't let her. They were simple people, again, this house and all the grandeur they had acquired meant nothing to them."

"Henry, do you remember when she cut her head so badly on that radiator? She was four . . . I'll never forget it . . ."

Mrs. Parker burst into wild weeping. Already they were talking as if Zoe were dead, thought Katharine, fear clutching at her heart.

The night wore through. There was a blaze of light over the water. Light poured into the sick-room, where a small figure lay stretched on a carved and gilded bed. The nurse extinguished the bulb that dangled, hospital-wise, in a twist of white paper. The room was very still.

Dr. Kaye went to the door. He still wore his black broadcloth but he had long since discarded the coat with the satin lapels, in his shirt-sleeves and braces he looked oddly grim.

ESTIMATE NUT FLINTS WILL CROP 800,000 TOUR EUROPE 100 POUND BAGS IN VACATION

More than 800,000 100-pound bags of walnuts is estimated for this season's crop, according to a report made by C. C. Thorne, manager of the California Walnut Growers' association who addressed the Southern California Walnut Growers Field Day event at Santa Paula, local growers who attended the sessions were back home today.

Thorne reported that Southern California, as a whole, will harvest a large crop; Santa Clara valley and the Bay region about the same as last year; Sacramento valley a larger crop and the San Joaquin valley a smaller crop than 1934.

The association has 5000 bags of the 1934 crop yet to sell out of their supply of 400,000 bags, he reported, and the control board is disposing of about 1400 bags a day. Prospects for clearing up the past year's crop are quite good, he said, and unless recent reciprocal treaties delay the efforts of the industry to clear their shelves.

The recent reciprocal treaty with Brazil will open up greater competition with California walnuts. Thorne said, as the treaty reduces the tariff on Brazilian nuts 50 per cent. He said $6,000,000 pounds of these nuts are imported annually, and the lowering of the tariff will greatly increase imports and make it more difficult to sell California nuts. He added that the recent spring frozes in the walnut districts of Czechoslovakia, Roumania and France undoubtedly will strengthen the demand for California walnuts next year.

A group of Orange walnut growers was among those growers at the field day event. The Agricultural Extension Service conducted about 200 growers on a tour of orchards showing the effects of excessive irrigation on black walnut roots. Caution was advised in not pouring water on ground that already is wet. It was brought out that there is also a trend toward the use of fertilizers to maintain the fertility of walnut orchards.

Among those attending from Orange county were Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg; Andrew Smiley, who is chairman of the Southern California Walnut department; J. A. Smiley, chairman of the Orange County Farm Bureau Walnut department; Rufus Porter, vice chairman; B. J. McReynolds, Tustin; Walter Ross, Anaheim; and D. F. Halladay, of Santa Ana.

CALLANDER, Ont., June 11.—(UP)—From now on visitors to the Dafoe hospital will be given a glimpse of the Dionne quintuplets frequently during each day, from a distance of 20 feet.

It has been decided the babies will be held up to the windows at various times each day to allow visitors to see them. The "no-admittance" rule is still in force, and admirers of the famous girls will have to remain outside the fence surrounding the hospital. Triplicate pictures of the sisters will be sold at North Bay, Callander, and all Ontario border points to visitors this summer. The babies are to receive a percentage of profits from the sale of their photographs.

NEW YORK BONDS

NEW YORK, June 11.—(UP)—Rail bonds were active and strong on the stock exchange today, leading the domestic corporation section higher while U. S. governments were easier. Carrier gains ranged from 1 to 4 points. Utilities were firm. Postal Telegraph 5s however, declined 1½. Paramount 6s bonds were strong a new high for the year. Industrial issues were steady. French 7½s of 1914 dropped 5 points but the 7s of 1915 were steady.

WHEN THE PRISON GATES OPEN

This question always arises as to what a man will do who has "done his time" and faces the outer world once more. But it has been called to the attention of the public at this time by the reason of Edwin (Alabama) Pitts, the noted athlete of Sing Sing prison in New York.

Pitts crashed into the news as the star athlete of the prison. He played as quarterback on the prison football team, batted .500 on the prison baseball team, and high-jumped for the prison track team.

He was sentenced to from eight to 15 years for a hold-up. Good behavior shortened the term to five years and four months. Awaiting him, as the prison gates behind him closed, was a contract to play ball on the Albany team of the International league for $200 a month.

It was a world of hope that beckoned to him. But that hope was shattered when the president of the National Association of Professional Leagues announced that Pitts' membership on the Albany team would be against the best interests of organized baseball.

Here is a young man, 24 years old, life before him, but, because of an offense committed as a youth of 19, doomed to be an Ishmael, an outcast from decent society all his days. That is what the decision of the president of the National association means for this young man unless it is reversed.

Yesterday, the executive committee of this association took action on this case, and upheld the verdict of the president. Immediately the Albany baseball club decided to appeal to Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis for permission to employ Pitts as a player, and Landis' decision will determine whether Pitts may play in organized baseball or not.

The young man has also had a friend in the warden of Sing Sing. Warden Lawes has declared that he will personally appeal to Judge Landis and will urge that Pitts be given a chance.

And why should he not be given a chance? It was a serious offense that sent him to prison, to be sure.

Society owes something to its law-abiding citizens. But it also owes something to the man who has paid the price, and wants to start over.

There is a vast deal of difference between a man guilty of his first offense, who comes out and is making his way in society along the "straight and narrow," and the men who are known to be hardened criminals and, as Will Rogers says, "use the jails as one-night stands."

We have come to look upon prisons in these days as reform institutions. Except for the incorrigibles and those who would be a perpetual menace in the outside world, they are renovating character agencies.

It is conceded that all of us make mistakes, and that many go wrong. Only a comparatively few are called to public account for their mistakes and wrongs. But there are still all too many who brand the man who has been in prison as a moral derelict, to whom little sympathy should be given.

When public attention is arrested to a case like that of "Alabama" Pitts, public sympathy is immediately aroused. But how many there are who leave their prisons for the outer world and live their lives in the shadow until they die.

Why should we be surprised that there are so many who despair and fall back into crime? It is safe to say that most men who are discharged from prison mean to live the honorable life. But they are turned down here, and suspected there, and find the outer world as dreary a prison as that which harbored them for a time.

Men like Warden Lawes can do little to reclaim prisoners unless a public sentiment exists which will give the discharged prisoner a chance. A universal sympathy like that which Robert Burns voiced is needed. It is in the poem addressed to the "Unco Guid."

Then gently scan your brother man,
Still gentler, sister woman:
Though they may gang a kennin' wrang,
To step aside is human.
What's done we partly may compute,
But know not what's resisted.
Robert Burns spoke out of a bitter experience.

A VALUABLE AND FAR-VISIONED SCHOOL MAN

The fall of 1925 brought to the school system of Santa Ana a far-visioned school man, who, for ten years, has wrought significantly in his chosen field—Mr. McKee Fisk.

After a year of service, he was made dean of the junior college, even though he was the youngest faculty member, both from the standpoint of years of service and age. This was practically at the mid-year of the existence of this valuable institution.

Dean Fisk received his A. B. from Oklahoma City University, his A. M. from U. S. C., and now takes a year's leave of absence to procure further training at Yale. His quality is recognized by this great Eastern center of learning since they have given him faculty standing in a teaching assistantship with the rank of instructor, which will permit him time for research.

We can hope that this leave of absence does not mean permanent loss. Teacher turnover is as costly in culture and financial outlay as labor turnover is in the industries.

Every community should recognize that it is important to make professional advancement for teachers a fact. To the alert the opportunity for advancement must be patent, else every commencement time will find the choicest re-locating, while during the school year there will be a restiveness that depletes the esprit de corps.

Just now there is a tendency to overload the teaching force and to cut the economic security to a minimum, while abundance is a possibility and unemployment is at a high peak. This combination needs to be disrupted.

Teachers are usually safely secure, though more or less worthless, when they follow the implications of Elbert Hubbard's motto: To escape opposition:

Do nothing, say nothing, and be nothing. Dean Fisk has stood for progressive idealism; for giving the student a contact with ideas as a basis for adequate judgment; for leadership without a blare of trumpets; for a wholesome home life; for civic enrichment; for culture that makes abundant living, and for a religion that is pregnant with dynamics.

He was a teacher in the school of commerce, as well as dean, in order that he might, in a virile way, be a citizen of "no mean city." He was community-creative. He served as a charter member of the Cantando club; as a Knight of the Round Table; as a suggester of the Annual Fiesta day at the college; as president of the City Teacher's league; as a member of the chamber of commerce; as representative to the California Teacher's association; as a teacher, official member and an altogether useful adherent of the Methodist Episcopal church.

His loyalty to American institutions is of the intelligent, discerning and abiding character. During the World war, he saw service, was honorably discharged after the Armistice, and later was a charter member of the American Legion Post in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

His patriotism was deep and constructive. The need for change was apparent to him. He knew that whoever halts evolutionary processes, tends to make violent revolution inescapable, and led his students to this viewpoint.

The truth makes men free. Open-mindedness to the truth makes men rich in the things that stand the test of time.

Santa Ana is proud to have had the dean in its schools and wishes him bon voyage and a speedy return.

JUST WHAT GOOD WAS IT, ANYWAY?

Despite all the jubilation of many business and industrial leaders and foes of the administration that is being voiced over defeat of the National Recovery administration through the supreme court's recent ruling concerning its unconstitutionality, there is now beginning to come to the foreground the thought that possibly the act did have a great many good points after all.

This was well expressed by Will Rogers the other evening when he wrote, concerning a conversation he had had with Secretary of Commerce Roper: "We decided that with big business operating under the old 'dog eat dog' plan, so many dogs would eventually get bit that parts of the NRA would look like a halo by 1936."

Others have found considerable benefit that resulted from operation of the various parts of the National Industrial Recovery act.

For instance, the National Bureau of Economic Research, a non-governmental organization, presents the following figures as the result of 20 months operation under the act:

The number of wage-earners employed increased from an index of 115 to 133.

The country's total payrolls increased from 127 to 172.

The average earning per worker climbed from 110 to 126.

The average hourly wages rose from 97 to 134.

The average hours of work per person per week dropped from 114 to 95.

In all of these indices the figure 100 measured conditions prevailing in February and March 1933.

The Research bureau also told of a questionnaire that had been used, in which directors of 369 industrial establishments answered a question as to why they increased wages during this period by saying they did so in order to cooperate with NRA. And 359 admitted they were obliged to make the increases because they were forced to do so by codes of the NRA.

With all its faults, the act did result in definite establishment and enforcement of standards of ethics, which had sadly deteriorated before and which show signs of hasty back-sliding again.

But maybe the operation of the act thus far has aided in bringing back such a degree of recovery that now people can turn themselves from their interest in saving folks, saving the homes of folks, saving the farms of folks and saving the health of folks to "preserving the constitution."

If we have reached such a degree that we can take our minds off people, for whom constitutions and states are made, to an academic discussion of this type, we certainly have made some progress.

Instead of "Ain't nature grand?" we would ask: "Ain't politics grand?"

Hoover's Unhappy Lot

Banger Commercial

Every time former President Hoover raises his head to speak out on current issues, as he has done quite frequently of late, Old Man Depression pops up behind him to grimace over his shoulder. It is his fate and, however unfairly, it does not augur well for his political future.

It happened again in the case of Mr. Hoover's recent interview in which he called for repeal of the NRA as un-American in principle and a proved failure in practice.

His words inevitably recalled his own attempt in 1930 and 1931 to do what NRA finally accomplished; namely, to check the deflation of labor. Twice he called in the industrialists to pledge them not to cut wages, and twice the pledgers kept right on cutting.

His interview serves as a reminder that one large purpose of NRA, the supreme court willing, is to provide an organization of business and industry that may prove useful in coping with another depression—may even help prevent one. Of course, it is not popular to talk about another depression, just as we are recovering from this one. But neither was such talk popular in the long, secure prosperity years when the present depression was in the making.

The Toss Of A Coin

More Truth Than Poetry

THE FEATHERED MARTYR

Alert and keen and heady-eyed,
He flutters far and near,
The very cats are terrified
When Mister Wren is near.
Although he toils with eager zest
And bravely sings his song
The while he does his level best
He's always in the wrong.
In vain he sounds his chattering call,
He's just a husband, that is all.

When eggs are hatched he dare not shrink;
He hurries to and fro,
He has no choice but keep at work;
He's always on the go.
He delves beneath the hardened soil
In every garden bed,
Till with a maximum of toil
The children all are fed.
And then his wife, the little shrew,
Finds still more work for him to do.

Then, when he grows infirm and old
His labors still are manifold;
His troubles still increase.
He constantly is in the air,
Until with drooping wing
He totters feebly here and there
And cannot even sing.
But he's still strong of heart and brave,
And loves, I think, to be a slave.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

PAGING THE BUSINESS STATESMAN

Everyone is watching Mr. Roosevelt in these days following the Supreme Court decisions which threw so much of the New Deal into reverse.

Important as it is to follow closely the policies of the White House, it is equally important that we follow with a responsibly critical eye the moves of American business in the immediate future.

How the American business man thinks and acts in the weeks and months just ahead may well determine whether we are to retain the American tradition of private enterprise and political liberty or move with increasing momentum towards greater and greater centralization of power in the federal government.

I say this for the reason that the New Deal legislation is not something just "thought up" by the New Dealers because it represents a philosophy to their liking. Whether it is basically sound or unsound, this whole round of legislation is directed at problems that are real.

These problems must be met. No amount of political rhetoric can blow them away.

The one central question is whether they can be met under the long established American traditions or only through a rather sweeping reversal of those traditions. Mr. Roosevelt is right in saying that most—if not all—modern governments are seeking to meet these problems through a very great centralization of power in the national government. This is true of Fascist Italy, of Communist Russia, of Nazi Germany, and so on.

But let's think this through. How much greater headway is Fascist Italy, Communist Russia, Nazi Germany, or any of the nations with extremely strong central governments making in really meeting the problems thrown up by this age of science, machine and power? The last word has not been said on the actual results of these governments. They have restored a measure of ordered existence upon situations that were chaotic. How far they have gone in solving the problems of this age is not so clear.

Have we tapped the full resources of the American tradition of private enterprise and political liberty? Is there any likelihood that we will tap them any more fully in the future than we have in the past? No one can say surely. But the answer to this question will depend largely upon what the American business man thinks and does.

If he now rises to the challenge to genuine economic statesmanship we shall not need even temporarily to follow the world-crowd in centralizing power in Washington.

Tomorrow I shall say a little more clearly what this challenge is.

CHANGING A ROUTINE

"Give him at least two fresh vegetables a day and about a quart of milk. He can have the milk with his cereal, in puddings, drink it, any way he likes, but he must have it. His teeth show that he needs it badly. And I wouldn't let him have any more candy between meals. A piece now and then after his meals is all right, but not between meals."

"But he won't eat for me, doctor. And cries if he doesn't get lolly-pops every day. What can I do with him?"

"What can you do with him? Just make him do what you tell him. If you don't he won't have a decent tooth in his head, and he will have no resistance to disease. He will keep on whining and crying and clinging to you. Make him. That's all."

That is plenty. It is not easy to change a child's routine once it has been set. It is easier to keep him on the schedule once it has been decided, but when mistakes have been made they must be corrected for the child's sake. There will be a struggle, but patience will win in the end.

Children will eat what they have been accustomed to eating. They will eat their cereal and toasted bread, eggs and vegetables, if they have been accustomed to eating them. They will eat their candy after meals if they have been trained that way. They don't crave sweets until they have acquired a taste for them. But after the damage has been done how can we set about beginning again in the best way?

A very important point is this: Start the new program as dramatically as possible so that it impresses the child and dwells in his memory a long time. If he can be taken away from home to make this beginning so that the old associations will not pull on him, that is fine. It gives him a good start.

We rarely are able to do this, so we do the next best thing—change his surroundings as completely as possible. Give him his breakfast in a new place. Use new dishes—new to him. Put on a different dress. Make an occasion of it. Don't talk about the old way. Ignore it. Take for granted that he is to follow that new way. If he refuses his food, be cheerful about it, and remove it after a fair interval.

There is no such thing as a weather vane; the instruments popularly called by that name are wind vane, indicating direction of the wind and nothing more.

The white ant is not an ant, but a termite, which belongs to an entirely different family of insects.

terval. Give him nothing between meals, say nothing about his eating, give him something interesting to do and make a show of being especially occupied with your own affairs to the exclusion of his. He will be watching for a sign of anxiety, or fear, or interest in his predicament, and if he sees one, he is strengthened for the fight. Ignore him; take his going without food as a matter of fact and be very busy and most cheerful. He may cry, kick, howl. Let him. If you think you can't stand it any more just take him to the bathroom and wash his face with cool water. Undress him, after he stops yelling, and put him to bed to sleep it off. But don't feed him until meal-time comes around.

It takes self discipline to change a child's routine. We have more trouble with our fears than we have with the children's behavior. They will do as we say if we say it with conviction. For their sakes that is precisely what we must do.
